CAROLINA ELEVEN LOSE AT RICHMOND

'Varsity Outclassed by V. P. I., Game Resulting in Score of 20 to 0.

VIRGINIA EASY FOR INDIANS

Carlisle Took One-Sided Game by the Score of 22 to 5.—Brown Defeats Yale and Princeton Holy Cross.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 5.—The University of North Carolina football team was outplayed and overwhelmed by the Virginia Polytechnic Institute here today.

The Tar Heels showed their usual never-die spirit, however, and made plucky resistance from start to finish. Porter, the Carolina fullback, was put out of the game in the second quarter for alleged slugging. The score was 20 to 0.

The line-up was as follows:

V. P. I.		Carolina
Hodgson, A. N.	le	Winston, Young
Jones, Rodgers	lt	Garrett
Pick	lg	Thompson, c
Gibbs	c	Brown
Breckenridge	rg	Parker
Burruss	rt	Abernethy
Legge, W. R.	re	Venable

Legge, F. H.	lh	Rumn
Derby, Gravelly	rhb	Calmes
Hodgson, V. B. c.	fb	Porter Chambers

Summary: Touchdown, Hodgson, F. H. Legge, 2; goal from touchdown W. R. Legge, 2; goal from field, W. R. Legge; score, V. P. I. 20; University of North Carolina 0. Officials: Williams, University of Virginia; referee Barry, Georgetown, umpire; Stewart, North Carolina, field judge; Brown, Washington & Lee, head linesman; time of quarters, 10, 12, 12 and 10 minutes.

Carlisle 22; Virginia 5.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The Carlisle Indians easily defeated the University of Virginia here today, the score being 22 to 5. As the result of yesterday's storm the field was in poor condition for a football game and both teams suffered. Virginia could do nothing with the Indians' line and played a defensive game throughout.

Newashe at full back for the Indians, played a brilliant game as did Honaker and Todd for the Southerners.

A seventy-yard run by Honaker near the end of the game was the thrilling feature of the contest. Intercepting a forward pass from Newashe, he made a sensational dash through the field for Virginia's only touchdown. Both teams played without the services of their captains, who are laid up as the result of injuries sustained in games a week ago.

The line-up follows:

Virginia		Carlisle
Hewett	le	Smith, Jordan
Varner	lt	L. J. Wheeler, Lonestar
Pankey	lg	Arigin, Sweetcorn
Wood, Beardsall	c	Garlow
Towles	rg	Burd

Jones, Goodhue	fb	Newashe

Tuchdowns, Newashe 4; Honaker 1; goals from touchdowns, Powell 2; referee, Bergen, Princeton; umpire, Kirby, Georgetown; field judge, Gass; head linesman, Donnelly, Trinity.

Pennsylvania Wins Game.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—Pennsylvania's football team played he best game of the year today and easily defeated LaFayette 18 to 0. LaFayette had little versatility to her attack and during the entire game gained only 66 yards. Pennsylvania, on the other hand, kept her attack wide open all the time and carried the ball 420 yards from scrimmage.

Navy Won From Lehigh.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 5.—By rolling up a higher score than did West Point against Lehigh, the Navy team today raised the hopes of those who have for the last few weeks been a bit downcast over the showing of the Annapolis aggregation. As compared to 28 to 0 made by West Point, Navy this afternoon rolled up 30 points against the team from Lehigh.

Will Protest Game.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 5.—Chattanooga beat Mercer here today 6 to 0 on a touchdown, the result of an alleged illegal forward pass, upon which the beaten team will protest the game.

Auburn Defeats Georgian.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—In a cold, drizzling rain and on a slippery field the eleven collegians from Auburn, Ala., today defeated the Georgia Tech squad by a score of 16 to 0. Auburn scored after six minutes' play. Fumbling proved Techs' undoing.

Vanderbilt is Winner.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 5.—In a game fraught with sensational dashes forward passes and long punts Vanderbilt defeated Louisiana State University here today by the score of 22 to 0. L. S. U. did not show the strength which had been predicted and McGuigan's men had no difficulty in disposing of them. Louisiana was

MERELY A QUESTION OF SIZE

Democratic State Chairman Eller Talks of Majority in Tuesday's Election.—Call to Arms is Clear and True.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 5.—Democratic State Chairman A. H. Eller tonight gave out the following statement with reference to the election on Tuesday:

"A Democratic victory next Tuesday is as certain as any human event can be, the size of the majority is all that remains in doubt. It rests with us to make the victory decisive and final or to make it so indecisive as to render necessary a repetition two years hence of the campaign we are just concluding. If we merely hold the majority of two years ago the result of this campaign will be indecisive and our efforts must be repeated in 1912; but if we increase our majority to 50,000, all efforts to place North Carolina in the list of doubtful States will cease.

"Is it not worth while to exert ourselves and for the next decade, at least, make North Carolina so certainly Democratic that no efforts will be made by the National Republican party to carry it, and thus insure for our State a continuation of the peace and prosperity now enjoyed.

"To the end, therefore, that we make our work final, and to the end that we may make unnecessary a biennial repetition of the present campaign, I now call upon all Democrats to join in a movement to register a majority of 50,000 next Tuesday.

"I suggest that all Democrats cease that day from their ordinary vocations and each one do what lies within his power to bring about this result; those who employ others in their stores, factories, or on their farms, can well afford to suspend work one day that their employes may have full opportunity to exercise their franchise and exert their influence around the polls.

"I suggest further that as far as possible every Democrat cast his vote in the day so that absentees may quickly be discovered and encouraged to come before the polls close.

"Fellow Democrats, one good day's work next Tuesday means the end of Butler and the end of all efforts to change North Carolina into a Republican State.

A. H. ELLER,
Chairman State Dem. Exe. Com.

(By Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 5.—The close of the campaign in North Carolina finds success on State ticket certain for the Democrats, with a majority of from 40,000 to 50,000.

The Democrats will elect at least eight Congressmen with a fighting chance for Republicans in the eighth and tenth districts, now Republican. The fifth, now Republican, appears assured to Democrats.

MITCHELL ATTACKS DIX.

Open Letter Addressed to Labor Asking His Defeat.

New York, Nov. 5.—John Mitchell, who, as president of the United Mine Workers Union, directed the great anthracite strike of 1900-1902, and now one of the vice presidents of the American Federation of Labor, issued through Republican State headquarters today, an open letter attacking the labor record of John A. Dix, the Democratic candidate for Governor. The letter says in part:

"When the charge was first made that Mr. Dix, candidate for Governor, required the employes in his mills to work 13 hours each night, I assumed that the charge had no basis in fact, and that it would be answered by a specific denial; however, up to this hour no denial has been made and no explanation has been offered by Mr. Dix.

"On the contrary investigation has demonstrated that the employes of paper mills, controlled by Mr. Dix, are required to and do work 13 hours each night. It also has been charged, and not denied, that the workmen in his mills received in return for these excessively long hours, only $1.75 per night, or 13 1-2 cents per hour.

"If the great State of New York and all its municipalities ordain eight hours as a fair day's work, what justification can there be for excusing or defending a 13-hour day in the paper mills controlled by Mr. Dix? The statute of the State of New York, establishing the eight-hour day was enacted at the solicitation of the wage earners. Does it seem reasonable to suppose that Mr. Dix, who requires his own men to work 13 hours each night would sympathize with a law which establishes for State and municipal employes an eight-hour work day:

"In my opinion the wage earners should distinguish between the candidates for office and, that quite apart from political considerations, they should oppose the election of any candidate of any party who is not in sympathy with their efforts to secure and maintain fair wages, reasonable hours and just conditions of employment."

MURDER AT SPRUCE PINE, N. C.

Chas. Rowe Killed His Neighbor—Says It Was Justifiable.

Bristol, Tenn., Nov. 5.—News was brought here today from Spruce Pine, ing of Filmore Rose, who was shot down by his neighbor, Charles Rowe, the latter using a shotgun. Rowe, who was arrested and sent to jail at Bakersville, N. C., makes the plea that the shooting was justifiable. He is quoted as saying he warned Rose to cease trespassing on his lands and that in return Rose threatened his life.

RAILROADS UPHELD IN ADVANCE RATES

THE SOUTHEASTERN TRAFFIC

Decision Will Have Important Bearing on Southwestern Shippers' Case—South Only Involved—Reasons Are Assigned.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Upholding the sweeping advances in rates on Southeastern traffic, on many classes and commodities, as justified by the condition of the railroads and the need of improved facilities, the Inter-State Commerce Commission today in a divided decision dismissed the cases instituted by the railroad commissions of Alabama and Georgia and the A. P. Morgan Grain Company and others.

The decision may have an important bearing on other pending cases—the Southwestern Shippers' case, which was heard by the commission today and taken under advisement and the wholesale increases in rates by the railroads generally, now suspended by the commission pending investigation. Today's decision involves the Atlantic Coast Line, the Louisville and Nashville and other roads as defendants.

The advances involved were made on August 1, 1908, and the majority opinion, written by Commissioner Cockrell held that they were not found to be unjust, unreasonable nor unduly discriminatory. The decision covered the advances generally to Georgia, Alabama, Florida and the Carolinas, from Ohio and Mississippi river crossings. The majority opinion holds that both the adjustment of rates between Birmingham and Atlanta and the advances made August 1, 1908, were based on increasing taxation and in the prices of material and labor.

"The condition of most of the railroads in this section of the country," says the majority opinion, "is not yet up to the highest standard and in order that their facilities may be improved and extended to the ultimate lasting advantage of the people of the South, it is necessary that the carriers be permitted to charge rates that are fully compensatory for the services they perform so long as such rates have not been shown to be unjust, unreasonable or excessive with respect to the public. We are unable to hold that an advance is unreasonable because some part of the benefit therefrom will accrue to a carrier that 'during the period of the last ten years has regularly paid interest on its total bonded indebtedness' and in addition thereto has recently paid dividends upon its stock."

It was alleged that these increases were only a part of a general advance made or to be made in the freight rates throughout the South. The decision, however, is confined to the specific matters now in issue, and, the commission says is not to be construed as extending beyond them or as indicating in any degree approval of other or further advances in rates. The advances were in meats, flour, grain, packing house products, etc., mostly time freight that must be moved promptly, the wheat and corn milled in transit without extra charge and the loss and damage claims, higher than the average on all commodities.

Dissenting opinions were filed by Commissioners Lane and Clements. Mr. Clements contended that there was no justification for the threatened burden upon the transportation of this section of the country either in the needs of carriers, the history of rates, of the ability of the public to pay twelve cents per capita more for the staples affected.

ESTRADA TO CONTINUE.

Provisional President of Nicaragua for Two Years More.

Managua, Nica., Nov. 5.—General Juan J. Ehtrada will continue as provisional president of Nicaragua for two years, receiving the support of the conservative party. A convention to this effect was signed today by the United States commissioner, Thomas C. Dawson, General Estrada, General Mena, minister of War, Adolfo Diaz, Minister of the Interior; Fernando Solarzano, Minister of Public Works and former President Cardenas.

HERALD'S FORECAST.

Says Dix by 50,000 and Harmon and Wilson in Their States.

New York, Nov. 6.—The Herald, the only one of the New York newspapers which this year follows the old custom of making a definite political forecast, predict the election of John A. Dix, in this State by 50,000; Governor Harmon, in Ohio, by between 10,000 and 30,000; Dr. Woodrow Wilson, in New Jersey by upwards of 7,000, and the defeat of Judge Baldwin in Connecticut, but no figures are given. The Herald also predicts that the House of Representatives will go Democratic by 217 as against 174 Republicans.

REJECTS AMERICAN PROPOSAL

Action of German Government Blow to Potash Interests—American Contractors Agreed to Big Loss—Davis Disgusted.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Germany has rejected the American proposal in connection with the export of potash from that country, contracted for by the Aemrican interests. This proposal sought to halve the difference under dispute caused by the enactment of the potash bill by Germany last May. The American contractors would thus have accepted a loss of $14,000,000 that is $2,000,000 annually for seven years, which constituted the life of their contracts.

Germany's refusal to accept the American proposal is on the ground that it does not accord with the principle of the new potash law, and it is announced that the government cannot consider any proposals not in harmony with that act. If the Americans have proposals to make in consonance with that law it will consider them.

Various conditions are mentioned in the reply framed by the German government all of which are of an uncompromising character.

Herr Sydow, minister of commerce, called upon David Jayne Hill, the American ambassador this evening and handed to him the reply, which embodies a letter to the minister from Herr Kempner, chairman of the German Potash Syndicate.

The American ambassador transmitted the reply to M. H. Davis, the commercial adviser of the American Department of State. Mr. Davis and American potash representatives held a meeting tonight and decided in view of the wholly unsatisfactory reply, to leave Berlin immediately. Mr. Davis after cabling his recommendations to the State Department will proceed to Vienna upon another mission.

VIRGINIAN DEAD.

Former Prominent Citizen Comes to Sad End in Hospital.

Washington, Nov. 5—William A. Little, about 15 years ago a member for two terms of the Virginia State Senate from the Fredericksburg district and a lawyer of prominence, died at the Washington asylum hospital here today, aged 54. He was arrested on the streets several days ago and taken to the alcoholic ward of the hospital for treatment. After coming to Washington some years ago, he practised for a time but during the past few years had done little in his profession.

BLIND GOSPEL SINGER DEAD.

William Victor Baker Found Dead in Bed at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—William Victor Baker, who was known throughout the English speaking world as the "blind Gospel singer," was found dead in bed yesterday by his wife. He was seventy years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker were educated at the Institute for the Blind at Philadelphia and were married in 1884. What was intended by the couple as a career of light operatic entertainment was changed to gospel work and they toured with Evangelists Moody, Chapman and Francis Murphy.

BANKER IS CONVICTED.

Former Cashier of Mexico Bank Gets 12-Year Term.

Mexico City, Nov. 5.—Robert A. Crump, former cashier of the Federal Banking Company, of this city, convicted of having appropriated funds of the institution to the amount of $68,500 gold was today sentenced to serve twelve years imprisonment and to pay a fine of $500. An appeal from the finding of the court was taken.

Crump for several years prior to 1899 was a resident of Louisville, Ky., in the employ of the American Tobacco Company.

SERIOUS RIOTING MARKS THE STRIKE

Climax of Another Disagreement Between the Express Men and Companies.

EXPECT A GENERAL WALK-OUT

One Striker Shot by Guard—Situation Regarded as Increasingly Serious—Negotiations Terminated—The Situation.

New York, Nov. 5.—The most serious rioting that has yet marked the strike of express drivers and helpers, culminating in the shooting of a striker by a guard on an Adams' express wagon, occurred tonight as the climax to an abrupt termination of negotiations between the men and the companies.

The situation tonight is regarded as increasingly serious, with added possibility of a sympathetic walkout throughout the city by all teamsters and allied organizations.

Peter Roach, a striking driver, was the victim of the rioting. He was shot through the body during an attack by a mob on an Adams' express wagon at Broadway and 75th streets. His condition late tonight was reported critical.

John Perry, a guard on the wagon, was arrested and according to the police, admitted the shooting. He said he fired after he had been hit in the face by a stone hurled by Roach.

The termination of negotiations was precipitated by a letter to Mayor Gaynor from the companies stating that the only condition upon which they would take back the strikers was individual application not later than Monday.

With the ending of negotiations, talk among the strikers immediately centered upon a general walkout. Such action, it was said, would call out 100,000 men.

AT ELIZABETHTOWN.

General Revival of Business.—Address by Mr. McLean.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elizabethtown, N. C.—At an enthusiastic meeting of the officers of the Bank of Elizabethtown, held in the offices of the bank, here yesterday, the $5,000 increase authorized at a meeting some time ago, was practically put up by the old stockholders. Under its new management this little bank has increased its deposits from $12,000 to upwards of $30,000. The finance committee, after a thorough examination, reported finding a gratifying growth, and present satisfactory condition of the bank.

Mr. A. W. McLean, of Lumberton, who is, vice prisedent and one of the directors, remained over for the night and addressed a large crowd of the business men and ladies of the town and community in the court house.

Mr. McLean has large real estate interest here, besides his interest in the V. C. & S. railroad, which will be completed here by the 15th of December, when there will be a railroad celebration day in Elizabethtown, with band music, and perhaps a barbecue. The programme will made public later. Mr. McLean's address was along the lines of progress, and the future of quaint old Elizabethtown, the Rip Van Winkle of North Carolina, which has slept peacefully upon the banks of the Cape Fear river, for the past century, but which has awoke to find such enterprise within her corporate limits as a locomotive, and band saw mill plant of the Newton-McArthur Lumber Company, which will soon be in operation here. The cotton gin of J. H. Clark & Company has been running on full time since cotton began to come in and is a mark of new life here.

Backed by an unlimited area of fine farming land both cleared and uncleared, Elizabethtown offers a peculiar inducement to men of enterprise to come and invest and settle up a good territory, which has only been kept back by the want and need of a railroad. At the meeting last night an enthusiastic board of trade was organized with 25 members. Hon. R. S. White was made president, and W. E. Hall, secretary.

Why not watch Elizabethtown grow?

EX-SHERIFF GEO. B. McLEOD.

Extent of His Injuries Seem Yet Undetermined.—Resting Well.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 5.—Mrs. Geo. B. McLeod returned tonight from Fayetteville where she went yesterday afternoon to be with her husband, ex-Sheriff McLeod, who was so badly injured in an automobile wreck Friday near Raeford. Mrs. McLeod states that her husband is resting as well as could be expected, but physicians say that it will be at least 36 hours before they can determine to what extent he is injured. Miss Irene McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McLeod, arrived today from Charlotte, where she is a student at Elizabeth College. Alf and Sandy McLeod, brothers of the injured man, are in Fayetteville with him and it is expected that Mrs. McLeod will return tomorrow morning.

ROOSEVELT ATTACKS HARMON

Campaigned Through State of Ohio Where Fight is Waxing Warm.—Calls Upon the Colonel to Tell About Ballinger.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 5.—Theodore Roosevelt came to the aid today of the Republican party in President Taft's State, where it is having one of its hardest fights. He made a campaign trip over the State severly attacking Ohio's Democratic governor, Judson Harmon and defending the policies of the Republican party. Of the Republican candidates and the State platform he had little to say.

The people of Ohio turned out in great numbers to hear Colonel Roosevelt. Leaving Chicago early in the day he made his first speech in Ohio at Toledo, after speaking briefly at several points in Indiana, telling the crowds which gathered at the stations that Senator Beveridge should be re-elected.

In the midst of his attack upon Governor Harmon, Roosevelt was interrupted by repeated calls from the audience "How about Ballinger?

The colonel stopped his speech abruptly and shouted: "He is not running for office in Ohio!

This answer did not satisfy his audience and the calls were repeated. Finally Roosevelt stopped again and after waiting a moment for quiet, he said, waving his arm emphatically:

"If I ever ask you to vote for him you can come and ask me questions."

Cleveland celebrated when the colonel came. There were bands, arches and a parade which wound its way between thick walls of people who thronged the streets down town and cheered.

The rally was held in the Central Armory. There is room for more than 10,000 persons in the Armory, but only a part of the crowd which surged about the building could get inside.

Of Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for Governor, Colonel Roosevelt said:

"If Mr. Harding is elected you will have a Governor who will put through a public utilities bill." That was all the colonel had to say of Mr. Harding.

He criticised the Republican State platform tariff plank which contains a strong endorsement of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, saying that the party leaders who framed it had lagged behind the people.

Colonel Roosevelt also defended 'new nationalism' and said that he was certain the people would eventually accept the principles which it stood for.

He also renewed attack on Governor Harmon, which he made first in Toledo. He criticised the management of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad, while Mr. Harmon was its receiver, saying that the roads had granted what amounted to rebates, and had become a part of the combination which fixed rates. He also asserted that Governor Harmon represented sinister influences, and that, although he denounced petty graft, he had appointed to office men who had been guilty of the very offense which he had taken a stand against. He also asserted that the governor was largely responsible for the defeat of the public utilities bill in the Ohio Legislature.

Colonel Roosevelt will arrive in New York tomorrow morning. He will remain at Oyster Bay all day and will meet Ezra Prentice, Republican chairman and Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York county Republican committee.

Harmon Makes Reply.

Sandusky, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Governor Harmon devoted nearly the whole of a talk here tonight in replying to the attacks made upon him in Toledo and Cleveland by former President Roosevelt. He said in part:

"With his usual recklessness, he (Roosevelt) talks about a matter of which he has not the slightest knowledge and makes what can only be wilful misstatements on matters with which he had to do. I had publicly said again and again that not a dollar of taxes was evaded nor a single rebate in any form paid while I was receiver of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railway, and my statement is corroborated by Mr. Thomas, the general traffic manager, Captain Rifenbrick, the omcer in charge of the tax department, and Morrison R. Walt, the solicitor of the railroad.

"The statements to the contrary are downright lies. He is quite willing to get votes by false pretenses.

"Mr. Roosevelt's word is not good enough to add anything, but wider circulation to these lies and he ought to be ashamed to do that.

"The colonel is concerned about my salary as receiver during the short time the court insisted on my serving, after I became governor. What does he think I should have done?

"At any rate I have not charged personal bills as state expenses as he repeatedly did, which was one of the reasons why he was the costliest, as he was the noisiest man, who ever held the office he has held.

"The colonel evidently thinks he can deceive the electors by dashing off reckless statements as he rattles through the State at the very end of the campaign, but he cannot fool the people of Ohio any of the time about their own business, as concerning which they are fully informed and of which he knows nothing at all."

Pittsburg, Nov. 5.—Peter Hermes, a millionaire milk dealer was killed tonight when he ran his automobile into a grocery wagon standing at the surb. Hermes was driving to his home from the office when in the dark, he crashed into the wagon. The steering wheel was forced into the man's abdomen.

FIGHT ABOUT OVER ELECTION AWAITED

Democrats and Republicans Both Claiming Victory in New York State.

THE FORECAST FOR TUESDAY

Beveridge and Kern Making Close Race in Indiana—Where Members of Cabinet Will Vote. Harmon Victory.

New York, Nov. 5.—The eve of the Sunday before election which frequently sees an end to the propaganda of a State campaign, found the Republican candidate for governor this year hard at work making speeches, and his headquarters busy issuing campaigning statements. In contrast to this Republican activity, the Democratic campaign managers called their task practically finished tonight.

Although Henry L. Stimson, the Republican candidate returned from his up-State tour late last night, he took the stump again this afternoon. His route was confined to Manhattan, and he kept going until midnight. Mr. Stimson has just as full a speaking programme awaiting him Monday, when he and Theodore Roosevelt will campaign up to the stroke of election day morning.

John A. Dix, Mr. Stimson's opponent, made his last speech to a delegation of farmers who called at his home in Thomson.

In addition to delivering eight speeches, Mr. Stimson dictated an 800 word telegram, which was sent to his opponent at Thomson this evening. The message comprised 12 questions asking for details as to Mr. Dix's position on the tariff, his treatment of his own employes and his charge of Republican extravagance.

Another output from Republican headquarters was an open letter from John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers' Union attacking Mr. Dix's alleged treatment of the employes in his Wall Paper Factory.

The rival State chairmen issued their claims and forecasts today. Ezra Prentice, the Republican campaign chief, declared Stimson would win by 90,000 majority. A few hours later, after completing his tabulations, he increased his estimate to 100,000.

Chairman Winfield A. Huppuch, of the Democratic committee, said he would stand by his former estimate of a Dix plurality of from 140,000 to 160,000.

William S. Rodie, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, was more conservative. He made Dix's probable plurality 100,000.

Now Await Election.

Washington, Nov. 5.—With several cabinet members in the field joining with State spellbinders in the campaign for Republican votes, and with President Taft and all but three of his official family ready to cast their ballots at home, administration officials are awaiting the outcome of the elections next Tuesday. Close of the campaign speeches were made tonight by Secretaries Knox and Wilson in Ohio, and Secretary Nagel, in Connecticut.

Interest at Washington centers on the New York and Ohio elections and in the Congressional returns generally, both as to the bearing they may have on the spread of Republican insurgency and on the political complexion of the next Congress.

President Taft has held aloof from campaign speech-making, resting on such party pronunciamentos as those between himself and Republican Chairman McKinley, of the National Republican Congressional Committee. In the campaign Secretary Knox has spoken in Ohio and Pennsylvania; Secretary MacVeagh and Attorney General Wickersham in Ohio; Secretary Wilson in New York, Ohio, Iowa, and other Western States; Secretary Nagel in Missouri, New York and Connecticut, while among bureau chiefs Commissioner of Internal Revenue Cabell has spoken in Virginia.

President Taft will vote in his old precinct in Cincinnati; Vice President Sherman at Utica; Secretary Knox at Valley Forge, Pa.; Secretary Meyer at Hamilton; Postmaster General Hitchcock at Newton, Mass.; Attorney General Wickersham at New York City, and Secretary MacVeagh in Chicago. Secretary Dickinson still will be on the last lap of his return trip from the Philippines, and Secretary Ballinger will remain at Washington. Secretary Wilson does not expect to go from Ohio to Iowa to vote.

Situation in Illinois.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Statements regarding the control of the next House of Representatives were given out today by the Democratic Congressional Committee and Chairman W. B. McKinley, of the Republican Congressional Committee.

The Democratic committee believes its party will have a majority of 51 in the 62nd Congress, while Mr. McKinley, speaking for the Republicans says he is confident they will retain control by a fair working majority.

CONTEST CLOSES MONDAY 7 P. M.

Final Votes Must be Cast at Contest Office—Returns Canvassed Immediately Thereafter at Court House.

What has been without doubt the greatest newspaper proposition ever inaugurated and carried out in this section of the country, is about to come to a close.

Tomorrow night at the stroke of the hour of seven, all subscriptions that are not in the building where the offices of the Contest Department ment are located will not have votes issued on them. As the time grows short in the contest proposition it is well for every contestant to know about the final close.

Every one who has any subscriptions to turn in, must bring them to the contest rooms of the Star, but the nnal count will take place at the Court House. Immediately after the close, everyone interested as to how the contest is going and wishing to know the whys and wherefores should proceed at once to that place.

Heretofore the votes have been issued and counted by the Contest Department. However, Monday night the votes will be counted by the contestants themselves. It will be done in this manner:

Judges or Representatives.

Each young lady dr boy contestant will be entitled to have one representative, these representatives will choose from among themselves five who will have the final counting to do, and the awarding of the various prizes to the winning contestants.

Fairness Shown.

The object in doing this is to insure even to the most skeptical that the contest is square, fair and above board from start to finish. It is well to remember that the contestants themselves will actually do the final counting through their representatives. However, the counting will be done in public; that is, in full view of everyone present, and the announcement of the winners will be made immediately after the final count, and every contestant and any of his or her friends are cordially invited to be present.

The Vote Schedule.

All subscriptions turned in Monday up to 7 o'clock will have the following schedule of votes issued to them, if they are new subscribers, a new subscriber meaning that the name is not at that time on the books of the circulation department of the Star:

4 Months	600 votes
6 Months	1,200 votes
1 Year	3,000 votes
5 Years	35,000 votes
10 Years	100,000 votes

A half of the foregoing number of votes on subscriptions turned in will be issued on all renewals. A renewal being a person or corporation that is not at the time on the circulation books of the Star.

All contestants, to the best of the Contest Manager's ability, have been placed in their correct districts. However, in case that he should have been in error, in any particular one, the contestant must make his or her complaint through their representative personally prior to the final count.

Also, in case of a tie for any of the prizes, the matter will be entirely in the hands of the five executive judges, and their decision will be absolutely final. The judges will be instructed tomorrow night regarding the rules and regulations that have existed since the opening of the contest, in fact, the Contest Manager will make a possible 15-minute talk before the general public, explaining everything in detail to avoid any possible misunderstanding.

Prizes Awarded.

The young woman, city or country, who has the largest number of votes to her credit, will be awarded the $500 in cash. The second highest will be awarded the piano; third highest will receive the trips to Cuba, selecting her own companion to accompany her, and the fourth highest will receive the Shetland Pony and complete outfit. Should the second highest contestant, however, prefer the trips or the pony to her piano, she will be allowed the privilege of chosing her prize as the largest number of votes, of course, have first choice of the prizes.

After the four Grand Prizes have been awarded, there will be twenty-four district prizes divided evenly among the six districts, making four prizes sure to go to each of the six districts into which the contest has been divided.

Trips to Cuba.

The two trips to Cuba are to be made as attractive as possible for contestants and will assure a good vacation for the winner and her friend. The trips will be over the Atlantic Coast Line to Tampa, where there will be allowed a stop-over so that the contestant will be enabled to see some of the beauties of this place. Also there will be a stop-over will be allowed at Jacksonville, the metropolis of Florida. On the trip down they will leave Tampa Bay by steamship to Cuba where so many of the people of the North go to get away from the bleak cold winds of their own habitation. The days there are delightfully warm and pleasant and its nights are pleasantly cool making sleeping under a light blanket desirable. Cuba possesses an ideal winter climate, not too warm, not too cool, in truth, a happy medium. These trips will be well appreciated by the lucky ones who win them. The last announcement of votes before the final count Monday night is as follows:

CHICAGO STRIKE SETTLED.

Forty Thousand Garment Makers Return to Worx Monday.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The garment strike, which called 40,000 persons in the clothing trade and which was productive of numerous small riots, was settled today. It is expected that the strikers will return to their machines on Monday.

Announcement of the settlement of the strike came from the offices of Hart, Schaffner and Marx, whose shops nave been in the vortex of the trouble.

Jane Addams, the settlement worker, and National President Rickert of the garment makers, were active in the negotiations. The strike was called for the purpose of compelling recognition of the union. The matter of wages was not involved.

The employers and strikers will each appoint a member of a committee to consider grievances and these two will select a third to settle all grievances.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—An agreement between President T. A. Rickert of the United Garment Workers' of America and the firm of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, entered into early today for the purpose of ending the differences between that firm and its employes, was repudiated at various meetings of garment workers. When the agreement was submitted to a meeting of the strikers, a storm of protest resulted.

Rickert, it is said, by some of the strikers, was almost mobbed when he appeared at one of the meetings with a copy of the agreement. Cries of "Throw him out!" were heard in all parts of the hall, and Rickert is said to have left the meeting.

WEEK'S DOINGS AT LUMBERTON

Election Soon to be Over—Several Affrays in the County—Hogs Burned to Death—Other News, Personal, Etc.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Nov. 5.—The battle will soon be over and many people who are tired and worn out will be glad when the 8th of Novem ber has passed and wish elections didn't come but once in ten years. It seems that both parties are doing what they can, the Democrats trying to increase their majority while the Republicans are straining every nerve to try to reduce it. During the past few days ex-Governor Glenn, Gov. Kitchin and Attorney General Bickett have spoken here to enthuse the Democrats. Marion Butler was booked here a month ago but failed to show up. This week Mr. I. W. Meekins was advertised to speak here, but he too failed to show up. Upon the whole the Republicans have little encouragement to work in this county.

A record has been made in Robeson this week that no county could fail to be proud of. Three different shooting affrays are reported to have occurred but particulars are extremely hard to get. Frank MacRae, a young colored man, is in jail charged with shooting Ella Shaw, a colored girl, at Red Springs Wednesday night. She was shot twice through the lungs, but at last reports was still living. The would-be murderer lived in Lumberton for some time where he had the reputation of being a splendid darkey. It is said whiskey was the cause of the trouble. Thursday, at or near Raeford, John Platt is reported to have killed Julia Gilchrist, but we have been unable to learn particulars. Both parties are colored. No arrest had been made up to yesterday evening. On the plantation of Mr. D. Z. McGougan, near Lumber Bridge, Taursday, Arch Melvin is charged with killing Frank McNeill, both being colored. A dispute over a woman seems to have been the cause of the trouble. McNeill made his escape. Sheriff McNeill returned yesterday evening late from the different scenes, but said it was the hardest matter to get anything like definite information of anything he had tried to do recently.

The residence of Mr. Scott McPhaul, near Maxton, was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Flora McRae, whose home was near by, became so excited that she died from heart failure. The funeral was conducted yesterday afternoon and was attended by several people from here. In spealkng of Mrs. McRae last night, Mr. M. G. McKenzie stated that she was undoubtedly one of the best women he had ever known.

One afternoon this week Mr. Mike Caldwell lost two very fine hogs as the result of carelessness on the part of a man who he had raking up and burning trash near the hog lot on the river bank a short distance from his residence. While the trash was burning the man left the work to go off somewhere and while gone the enclosure in which the hogs were confined, caught on fire and one of the hogs was burned to death and the other so badly burned that it had to be killed to relieve it of its suffering.

The pipe organ in the new Baptist church has been installed and is said to be one of the finest in the State. Mr. Meech, the piano player of the Demorest Comedy Co., an expert musician, has been delighting members of the congregation and others by his skiled playing on the new instrument during his stay in town this week. Mr. Meech says he was organist in one church for four years where a large pipe organ was used and is never so happy as when playing one.

Policeman Elmer McNeill has resigned his position, and it is supposed Substitute Strange will be appointed in his stead at the next meeting of the board of town commissioners——While in conversation with one of our leading business men this week, he stated that collections were coming up pretty well—a fair average, though many of the leading farmers were holding their cotton for higher prices ——Mr. W. A. Regan expects in a short time to move with his family to Elizabethtown, where he will be engaged in the stock business. Mr. Regan will leave Monday, and will be followed in a short time by his family——Mr. J. H. Wishart has added much to the interior appearance of his grocery store, having erected a neat little office where he can do his book work without being crowded. It is so arranged that he can use his 'phone either in or out of his office. The birds are already being slaughtered in this section. We hear of two hunters who killed 115 quail during the first three days in which it was lawful to kill them. They are retailing here at 12 1-2 cents each——No representative of "The Royals" which were booked to appear here next Wednesday and Thursday nights have arrived to do the advertising, and it is not expected that the attendance will be large——Winter has taken an early start and the wood dealers are having a picnic. Provisions are high enough, but the wood that has to be used in cooking is still higher in proportion——"Graustark" is being advertised to appear in Fayetteville next Wednesday night, the 9th. With good weather Lumberton may be depended upon to help swell the auditorence.

This has been a week of much real pleasure to Lumberton theatre-goers. The Demorest Comedy Company, which closed a weeks engagement here tonight, has delighted large audiences every night, and every one was reluctant to see the engagement close. It will be most gratifying to our people to know that this popular company has already been booked for next season. It seems to be the general opinion that this is one of the very best popular priced shows which has ever played through this section, and will always be gladly welcomed here. The company will leave tomorrow morning for Rocky Mount at which pace they will play a week's engagement. All but two members of the company visited here before, and have many friends in Lumberton who are always glad to see them.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Teder, of Charlotte, arrived yesterday morning to visit their daughter, Mrs. R. E. L. Carroll——Among those who attended the Robeson Baptist Association at Raeford this week were Rev. C. H. Durham, Dr. R. T. Allen, Messrs. R. D. Caldwell, S. McIntyr and W. P. Barker——Prof. J. B. Carlyle of Wake Forest College, spent Thursday night in town, having come here from the Association at Raeford. He left yesterday morning on the early Seaboard train——Booker Washington passed through here yesterday morning on his way to Laurinburg. He was traveling on a special Pullman, from the rear of which was flying a U. S. flag. Several colored men were at the station hoping to get a glimpse of the great educator, but there was nothing doing——Mr. L. B. Townsend, who holds a position with the Bank of Hamlet, came down Thursday night to spend a few days with relatives and friends——Mrs. A. B. Watson who was called here a week ago on account of the illness of her father, Mr. W. H. Humphrey, expects to return to her home at Dillon, S. C., tomorrow, Mr. Humphrey having sufficiently recovered as to be able to be up part of the time.

We heard a most conservative citizen say yesterday that he had been reading the political papers on both sides, and he considered the thrust at the editor of the Maxton Scottish Chief, by the Rowland Sun, was "about the rottenest thing he has seen." Such items as the one referred to may make votes for the Democratic party, but it would be an uphill job to make a whole lot of people think so. People generally admire a man who has the nerve to write his honest convictions as the Maxton man seems to be doing.

A representative of the postoffice department spent yesterday in town inspecting the different lots which have been offered the government for the public building lot——A five-day-old advertising agent struck town and had to have the mayor learn him that the town had had a tax on bill-posting. He was in realty a good looking young fellow, but his good looks exceeded his wisdom in presuming that he knew just a little more than he really did——We are glad to report Col. N. A. McLean as stil improving, though still unable to leave his room ——Mr. Lacy McKenzie, of the Lumberton Drug Co., has been confined to his room for several days with an attack of fever.——Dr. W. A. and Mr. H. B. McPhaul are expected home from Alabama tomorrow, where they went last week to visit their mother ——Garrell's new market is now being supplied with Western North Carolina beef. A shipment of 36 head of live cattle was received one day this week, one steer in the bunch weighing 1,640 pounds——Two organ grinders with monkeys struck town yesterday. It has been so long since anything of the kind has been seen here, that the visitors would almost be classed as "something new."

In the death of Jeff Norment, which occurred Thursday, passed away another of Lumberton's oldest colored citizens. He was about 78 years old, and had spent his entire life here. Jeff belonged to the late Mr. Thos. Norment, who raised him. When the colored people were made free, Jeff, unlike many others, remained where he had spent his early life. For several years he had been an invalid, and had not been away from home in a long time.

Miss Vashti Fuller White entertained a number of her friends this afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30, and it is needless to say the children had a good time. Miss White knows how to make them happy, and never misses an opportunity of doing so when an opportunity presents itself.

A marriage of much interest occurred here today, the contracting parties being Mr. M. N. Folger, of Surry county, at present engaged in teaching at Pembroke, and Miss Ethel Higley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Higley. Rev. C. H. Durham, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony——Mrs. Lizzie Proctor and daughter, Miss Leslie, and little son, Robert, returned from Graham Thursday evening, where they went to attend the marriage of son and brother, Mr. J. D. Proctor. Mr. Proctor and bride will arrive Monday——Mrs. Sue McLeod left this morning for Dillon, S. C., to visit relatives——Miss Josie McNeill left this morning for Red Springs to visit relatives.

atives——Mrs. L. C. Townsend has growing in the yard at her residence, a banana plant on which grew this season a bunch of fine fruit, which was well developed, but frosts came too early to give it time to ripen.

UNUSUAL DAMAGE SUIT.

Newbern Man Recovered $1,500 From Standard Oil Co.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Nov. 5.—A case of particular interest to the people of this State and the surrounding territory and which has consumed practically the entire week of the Federal Court when the jury awarded E. A. Mason and C. W. Morris $1,500 damages from the Standard Oil Co. The facts of the case were: Morris and Mason, who both reside at Beaufort, own a small sail boat which they use for transporting freight. Several months ago they held in one of their cargoes a barrel of gasoline shipped by the Standard Oil Co. During their voyage the gasoline leaked from the barrel and covered the lower deck. Mason went down into the hold to start a fire in the stove, meanwhile, the fumes of the gasoline had pervaded this locality and upon striking a match, an explosion occurred. The boat was completely destroyed. Suit was brought for $20,000 damages, the jury, however, decided that this was too much and awarded them $1,500.

CALL FROM SCOTLAND.

Ask State to Close Up and Work on Election Day.

Laurinburg, N. C., Nov. 5.—The leading business men of Laurinburg, the county seat of Scotland county, where the great revolutionary of 1898 stated and which resulted in redeeming the State from the ruin and disgrace from Russellism and Butlerism being profoundly impressed with the momentous issues involved in the approaching election have decided best to close their places of business on next Tuesday and give one day in a determined effort to stamp out forever the menace of Butlerism and the millions of repudiated bonds, and appeal to their fellow citizens in every part of the State to join hands with them in one final effort to save our fair land from the blight, business ruin and demoralization that would inevitably follow Butler's triumph.

AT TRINITY COLLEGE.

Arrangements for Inauguration—The Literaray Societies.

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., Nov. 5—Everything is in readiness for the inauguartion next Wednesday. Special trains have been arranged to take the visitors to and from the city and many other things have been done to make their visit pleasant one. Among the distinguished visitors who will be here are Mr. Jno. F. Crowell, former president of Trinity College, and Hon. Elmer E. Brown, United States Commissioner of Education.

Prof. W. H. Wannamaker, of the Department of German, is in Athens, Ga., where he went to attend a meeting of the Association of Preparatory Schools of the Southern States.

The Columbian and Hesperion Literary Societies elected their officers for the ensuing quarter last Saturday night. Both societies have taken a large number of new men this year, and have started off in an unusually good condition this year.

AFFAIRS AT DURHAM.

Supreme Court Opinion—Rev. Geo. R. Stuart—Young Men Active.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Nov. 5.—The Supreme Court handed down a decision late Wednesday afternoon sustaining the decision of the lower court in the case of Houston vs. the Durham Traction Company, which was that the company should pay the family of Fuller Houston $4,000. Houston was killed in this city on December 21st, 1908, while working in the building of the old Trakas candy store, soon after it had been burned out. He was shocked to death by an electric current while in the employ of the company, or at any rate that was the contention of the family, and the court sustained it.

In response to the call from the committee appointed by the International Convention of the Y. M. C. A. the local association will observe the week of November 13th as a week of prayer. Some of the most influential men of the city have consented to lead during the different days of the week, and Secretary Hunter is trying to get some out-of-town speaker for the special evangelical meeting to be held on Sunday, the last day of the week.

Rev. Geo. R. Stuart, the noted evangelist, will lecture in Durham, November 11th, at the Academy of Music, in the interest of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Trinity M. E. church. His subject will be "Lopsided Folks."

All Durham seems to be in favor of making a fine show on the day of Dr. W. P. Few's inauguration as president of Trinity College. The board of Health at its meeting Thursday night adopted a resolution endorsing the request of the Mayor that the city be cleaned up by the ninth in order that the whole town may have on its best dress when the distinguished visitors from all over the country come for the great event.

The First Voters' Democratic Club of Durham are making things move in this section. Last Thursday night they held a great rally at East Durham. Solicitor Sam Gettis spoke for an hour and a half, telling the young men of the Republican robber tarin and how the Republican party had failed to carry out the promises that it had made to the people. It was a very cold night, but the speaker, in scolding the Republicans, made it warm enough for nearly all of his crowd to remain to the end.

KNOWN IN COLUMANS.

Mr. J. E. Kelly Who Died Here.—Politics.—Developments.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, Nov. 5.—Mr. James E. Kelly, who died this week in Wilmington, had a host of friends in Columbus county and who grieves to hear of his demise. Mr. Kelly, when a boy, was brought up by the late Col. T. S. Memory, from Randall Island, New York, and he was raised as one of the family. When the war broke out he enlisted in Col. Toon's regiment and gallantly served until the surrender.

Col. Toon, in his nistory of his regiment, mentions the fact that when his horse was shot down, Jim Kelly rushed to him, amid flying bullets, and cutting the saddle from the dead animal, carried it away on his shoulder. For 15 years he kept Mr. Memory's mill, and was afterwards night guard for the Chadbourn and Waccamaw Lumber companies. He married Miss Lucy Williams, of this county.

Hands are now grading the lot Dr. Crowell bought at the sale of the Burkhead property, on Madison street. It is stated that a handsome new Presbyterian church will be built on this lot.

Mr. Mercer, of Rocky Mount, is in Whiteville today trying to organize a lodge of Modern Woodmen of the World.

The Republicans in this district have not nominated a candidate for either solicitor or State Senator. On their tickets, now being printed, the names of these offices is omitted. Many Republicans will vote for the Democratic nominee, Hon. J. A. Brown, and it is said there is a strong feeling among many members of that party to endorse Mr. Brown, whom they hold in high esteem.

Parties from Cincinnati and Chicago were in Whiteville yesterday trying to secure the adoption of their paving material by the town. It is being put down in Raleigh and is said to give entire satisfaction.

Mr. J. L. Memory has contracted with Mr. B. H. Harnly to cut into lots ten acres of land he owns in Whiteville, on the street leading out to Chadbourn. It is now conceded that Col. S. A. Jones is in earnest about building the Trans-Continental railway, and his depot at Whiteville will be located at this property.

Several parties in Whiteville have been to Elizabethtown investigating the purchase of real estate there. As the general belief that quite a boom will strike that historic old town when its railway is completed.

PETERSBURG PAPER SOLD.

Walter Edward Harris Buys Index-Appeal from R. P. Barham.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 5.—Richard P. Barham, for thirty-six years owner and editor of the Petersburg Index-Appeal established 1865, retired today having sold to Walter Edward Harris, who for about ten years has been Washington representative of Western and Southern papers. Mr. Harris is a Virginian and was, before going to Washington, D. C., political writer and managing editor of the old Richmond Virginian-Dispatch.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 5.—The 250-mile speedway race for a trophy and a $5,000 purse was postponed today until Monday because rain made the track slippery and extremely dangerous.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good." It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to date edition, in paper covers. If girls of other towns look as chick and chipper and altogether as lovely as Wilmington girls do in their hobble skirts and new fangle hats, the dress by that name will soon become the ideal thing.

It is learned from the Charleston Post that the booster secretary has been inviting the suggestion of slogans for Charleston. He has received more than 4,000, and probably has had more than 4,000 laughs and then some. What good does a slowgun do a city anyhow?

The election this year is on the 8th of November, and not on the 10th of November. The latter date is only an echo of 1908 when white women and children had to listen for a certain tap of the fire alarm so they could rendezvous to a place of safety. That was 12 years ago, but some white men may forget the circumstances.

The Ladies' Prohibition League at Shrieveport, La., was piping hot because they were denied the privilege of having a prohibition float in the parade on "Drummer's Day" at the State Fair. We are satisfied the ladies didn't know their float might have been a violation of the proprieties on such an occasion. A prohibition float might have been as much out of place in the parade as if the water wagon had been utilized at the tail end of the procession.

The Rockingham Post, edited by Col. H. C. Dockery, one of the most respected Republicans in North Carolina, and who was United States marshal in the Cape Fear district for several years, is now editor of the Rockingham Post. The Post of November 3rd says: "Boss Butler, the most degraded and depraved thing in American politics, ought to make respectable Republicans leave their party and vote the Democratic ticket." No comment is necessary.

The evidence of Marion Butler's guilt in connection with the plot to wring millions of dollars from people of his State to pay speculators in the repudiated bonds of North Carolina, issued fraudulently and dissipated in corruption, is clinched by the signature of Mary Ann himself. With his own hand he fixed the seal upon his own infamy and with his own hand he stirred the hellbroth which bubbles and bubbles with the unscrupulousness of the marplot. He crowns his infamy with a vituperative speech from which the Devil himself would have trembled at the thought of delivering.

High prices for products and wages do not indicate proseprity. It depends on how much of something else a man can buy with what he gets for his cotton or for his wages. How much sugar and coffee and other supplies can a man get for his cotton and his wages? When Cleveland was President 500 pounds of cotton would buy 300 pounds of sugar. When McKinley was President 500 pounds of cotton would buy only 250 pounds of coffee. When Cleveland was President 500 pounds of cotton would buy 800 pounds of sugar. When McKinley was President 500 pounds of cotton would buy only 670 pounds of sugar. During Cleveland's administration 500 pounds of octton would buy 17 pairs of shoes. When McKinley was President that same amount of cotton would buy only 14 pairs of shoes. The money from a bale of cotton when Cleveland was President would buy 1,304 pounds of nails and only 1,090 pounds while McKinley was President. It is not so much what a man gets in money for his cotton but how much he has left after paying all of it out for high priced supplies.

LOK OUT FOR THE BOLL WEEVIL.

The entire producing region of tht Southern States need not be surprised sooner or later at the invasion of the Mexican cotton boll weevil. It is reasonable to expect that we shall have the experience of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, and the one great menace to the South's monopoly of the world's cotton production is this destructive pest which made its appearance comparatively a few years ago. Official announcement has been made that the boll weevil has made its appearance as far east as Alabama and this season suspicious reports have come from Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina.

In several counties of North Carolina the appearance of destructive pests of some kind in the cotton fields have been reported, but in most cases we believe, the damage has been done by either the ordinary cotton bollworm or what is known as the red spider. We have seen some cotton bolls that have been attacked by the bollworm and judging from the results we should say that the bollworm would be equally as destructive as the weevil, for where the bolls have been punctured and entered the destruction was complete, yet it is said the bollworm does not propagate rapidly and its progress is easily stopped. On the contrary, the weevil propagates enormously and nothing has been devised to stop its progress or prevent its destruction.

The eastern cotton States should, therefore, be more watchful than ever against possible invasion of the weevil. All seed from infected territory should be inhibited, and every suspicious instance of damage to cotton by any kind of insect should be reported at once to the State Agricultural Department for immediate attention. When we say immediate, we mean immediate and not several days after the discovery and not several more days' delay on the part of the Agricultural Department. Most of the pests reported may be those already known, but it is safe to report everything, and anything, investigate every thing and take no chances. In this connection the Laurinburg Exchange, of November 3rd, says:

"Capt. J. M. Wright, of Laurel Hill township, has brought to this office a number of cotton bolls, all of which he says he cut rom one stalk in his field, which have been stung, bitten or in some manner killed by some insect. The Captain fears it may be the dreaded boll weevil, as its mode of attack seems so similar to that of the weevil. We trust, however, that these fears are not well founded. We would be hard to convince that the genuine boll weevil is at work in Scotland county."

Capt. Wright has a suspicious case that he should have investigated at once. It may not be the boll weevil, but there isn't any use to take chances about it. At any rate, he has discovered a pest with which he, as an expert cotton grower, is not familiar. We presume most cotton growers are familiar with ordinary plant pests, but those who are not posted should no longer neglect to make a study along that line, as it is a very important part of successful agriculture. Let all plant pests of every description bt reported promptly and let the State Agricultural Department regard all such reports as an emergency call for aid and instruction. The Department, we know, will do its part, if the farmers will act quick when they think they have discovered something of an injurious or destructive character.

The man who gets on to other men's curves surely must be crooked.

Judging from reports from all over the country on the eve of the election, the G. O. P. is skating on thin ice.

A St. Louis man advertises for a couple of tame lions. There is no doubt he is some mollycoddle who wants to have too easy a time.

A white man who votes the Democratic ticket doesn't have to render any excuses or make any apologies when he goes out into good society.

The city which will depend upon hot air for a boost during the next ten years will show up in the low percentage column in the next census.

The reason the South should stay solid is because the North has observed that the South is right and is coming our way. Maine led the procession and probably will be followed by several other States next Tuesday.

Col. Roosevelt has made unjust accusations against numerous individuals but he has never expressed a regret nor given an apology. The Springfield Republican says: "Roosevelt never retracts." Of course not. He's no retractor. He's a detractor.

Several thousand garment strikers are making things look squally in Chicago. Evidently they are not satisfied that the tariff made it so they could get enough wages to make a living. If the tariff makes wages good there would be no strikes.

The "bargain hunter" is no longer the woman who merely haunts the stores. She is the woman who watches the ads and goes to the stores strictly on business.

DESTROYED BY THE TARIFF.

If, as Republicans allege, the protective tariff has built up and brought about a great industrial development in this country, it has had another result probably greater in its disastrous results than have been the benefits in other respects. While the country had been developing industries the merchant marine and maratime commerce of the country have been neglected. In fact, the shipping industry of this country has gone into a decline so tremendous that we are ashamed of our maratime commerce in comparison with that of other great nations. In the good old Democratic period previous to the birth of the Republican party and its high protective tariff system, American shipping had outstripped that of all other countries, yet, some upstart Republican campaigners, ignorant of history, pretend to disparage control of the Government by the Democracy under which the Government was founded and conducted successfully and gloriously from its birth to 1860.

If we were to take wisdom as it was handed to us by Vice President Sherman while he was speaking in North Carolina last week, one would conclude that the Democratic party had never accomplished any achievements in making this Republic, yet, expansion and progress never ceased under all the years of Democratic control before the Republican party came into power later to degenerate into a party of graft and trusts. People who do not know better, might believe the slack wads who go about claiming that the Republican party is the pioneer party of progress and that the Democratic party is the party of reaction. The record and history prove that Republican spellbinders are either ignoramuses or partisan falsifiers.

Of course, while the Democrats were in power the country was given a reasonable protective tariff but not a robber protective tariff. The country prospered generally and for its population had a great merchant marine which the Republican party has allowed to almost disappear from the high seas. Now the Republican party, which has proved its incapacity for building up the commerce of the country, is advocating a ship subsidy scheme for restoring American shipping. In a recent plea for Government bounties for American shipowners, Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, asserted that for more than 100 years the policy of this country has been protective, and that every industry, including shipbuilding, has profited by it, but he contended that the shipowners, who are unprotected, have never had any chance since iron ships came into existence. The Massachusetts Senator took good care not to agree to the declaration made from reliable sources that the high tariff drove American shipping from the seas.

In the Boston Traveller recently, the writer of an article shows that at the beginning of the Civil War the tonnage of the American merchant marine was 5,539,813 tons, the greatest it has ever had. In that prosperous period of the American merchant marine, twice as many American vessels entered all British ports than British vessels entered American ports. In those good old days of Democracy the American "clipper" was famous in every sea on the civilized globe. They were wooden ships, it is true, but their construction was interrupted by the Civil War, while subsequent to the war there was no recovery because iron ships had taken the place of wooden vessels.

With the advent of Republicanism, the protectionists had placed such a high duty on iron that American ship builders could not afford to use iron and successfully compete with the shipbuilders of Europe. In 1860 pig iron sold in the United States at $22.50 a ton, but the tariff duty was raised to $9 per ton, so that in the years immediately following our Civil War, when our shipbuilders should have been using iron with which to build merchant vessels, iron was selling in the United States at $40.61 per ton against $27.12 per ton in Great Britian.

Strong contention is made, therefore, that as a result of the tariff on iron, lumber and copper materials used in shipbuilding, a ship costing $138,000 in the United States costs only $88,000 in Great Britian. The New Orleans States in commenting upon this showing remarks: "In view of this it is not surprising that the tonnage of our American merchant marine declined rapidly, while the cheaper British ships began to fill our ports." Indeed, they sweep the seas of the world, and are today carrying $25,000,000 worth of cotton out of Wilmington alone.

It was not alone the tariff on iron which killed American shipbuilding industries and destroyed the American merchant marine, but while that was a great factor in accomplishing that immense disaster, a prohibitive tariff was placed on foreign-built ships and shipbuilding materials. Ship owners in this country were prohibited from buying ships cheaply built abroad and were prohibited from buying materials abroad so they could compete with foreign countries in building ships. Ships built in foreign countries are not admitted to American registry if they are intended to carry freight and passengers, but for the sake of the millionaire yacht-owners, foreign-built pleasure craft are admitted to American registry. The millionaire idlers can buy foreign ships but people who would like to buy ships with which to build up the country's commerce, are shut out by the pig-headed laws of the great Republican party. America has shipping declined because ships could not be built in this country to compete with foreign-built ships, while American shipowners could not go to foreign countries and buy cheap ships to compete with those of foreign shipowners.

The shipping laws of this country, therefore, have relegated our foreign commerce to such condition that it is carried in foreign bottom, and probably our coastwise commerce would also be carried by foreign ships if the same laws did not prohibit the ships of any other country from carrying freight and passengers from one American port to the other. In other words, foreign ships are prohibited from competing with American ships in carrying coastwise commerce, thus enabling a monopoly of that kind of business by American vessels. With all that safeguard thrown around our coastwise shipping, most of it is carried in vessels of the commonest class. There are a few superior coastwise steamships in spite of the fact that they have no competition with foreign ships in carrying our coastwise commerce.

The only Republican remedy proposed for restoring our merchant marine is a ship subsidy system, paying bounties out of the pockets of the people to shipowners, in like manner to the bounties coming from the pockets of the people for the benefit of manufacturers. The probability is that if our merchant marine had not been destroyed by Republican policies but had gone on growing, we would have been doing ten times the commerce we are doing today. In all probability that would have brought about our industrial development without the tariff which has destroyed the merchant marine, terribly burdened the people and is well calculated to destroy our representative Government, already largely controlled by the money interests created by the Republican party. The best remedy for the whole situation is to get rid of the bumptuous, boastful, destructive, extravagant, and corrupt Republican party.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford Uuniversity, says the cause of the high cost of living is the war between Russia and Japan. Why did not he lay it on Noah and the flood, or Adam and the serpent?—Savanah News.

Both parties in Colorado find the women's vote worth considering this year. The Republicans have nominated a woman for regent of the university and they as well as the Democrats have nominated two women for the Legislature and women for State superintendent of education and minor positions.—Boston Transcript.

Year after year Marion Butler stuck to his self-appointed task of getting control of the Republican party and finally he succeeded. Now he is trying to get control of the State, but this latest undertaking is a different proposition from that other one. It is harder to fool the great mass of the voters than it is to fool the men who constitute a Republican State convention.—Greensboro Telegram.

Any one who looks at a map of the Western Hemisphere will be surprised, in spite of himself, at the location of the west coast of South America with regard to the east coast of the United States. When the Panama Canal is cut through and it is in working condition, a vessel sailing from New York to Valparaiso will go almost in a direct line south. It is a fact that the great port of Chile is farther east than the Port of Norfolk and Portsmouth. While the Panama Canal is being pushed to completion the cultivation of closer relations between this country and its neighbors to the South should be one of the principal objects of American statecraft.—Norfolk Landmark.

Do the people of South Carolina understand the meaning of the abandonment of litigation by Grabfelder & Company and their agreemnt to pay the State dispensary "winding up" commission $15,000? Do they understand what the payment of other sums by other whiskey houses means? It means, of course, confession by these houses that their dealings with the South Carolina State dispensary were not honest. They prefer to pay back to the State large sumes of money to resistence with inevitable uncovering of their transactions with the State dispensary. With whom did these houses deal? Who represented the State of South Carolina? To make a case of bribery two parties are necessary, the briber and the bribed. Who have been the bribed? Whom have the whiskey houses corrupted—if not officials chosen by the State of South Carolina to conduct its whiskey business?—Columbia State.

"Butler will satisfy every thinking voter of the State that the campaign of calumny and villification waged upon his position in the matter of the bonds is but the despairing wail of defeated Democracy."— Greensboro News. Our Republican contemporary must credit the people of North Carolina with short memories. Less than six months ago this same newspaper was berating this same Marion Butler as all that a man ought not to be, addressing him in the folowing caustic words of condemnation and contempt: "For months and months you have persistently traduced and maligned the motives of this paper; and we paid no attention to you. Now, since we have deemed it necessary to give you a kick, you bob up and howl, then resort to lies and theft. We have the deadly parallel ready for you. Go your nithy route." Butler has not changed. What change has come over the spirit of the News? In the whirligig of politics Butler has become the virtual leader of Carolina Republicanism, though Morehead is its nominal head; can that be the reason of this phenomenal journalistic flop?—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Representative Tawney, one of those dyed-in-the-wool Regulars, who stood by Cannon through thick and thin, takes it very much to heart that he was defeated in the recent primaries of the party. He says that he knows the Republicans of his district were pleased with what he did in Congress and wanted him back there. He points to the primary returns to show that the Democrats in numbers flocked to the Republican primaries and there administered telling votes against him. In other words, he thinks it was a scurvy trick for the Democrats, who could not beat him with a candidate of their own, to rally to the support of a gentleman in his own camp who could beat him. Mr. Tawney cannot be blamed for being mad. He cannot be blamed for feeling that it was a crooked kind of business for the Democrats to do the way they did, yet despite all that they did just right, according to the way a great many intelligent voters in this country are thinking. To tell the truth, men are no longer enslaved by the fetish of party loyalty. They are beginning to understand that a man who works against the public interests is a good man to vote against no matter what ensign he flies.—Charleston News and Courier.

A correspondent writes to ask if we did not give a certain very vociferous man credit for an unusual equipment of civic courage. We do not. The person in question meets no issue squarely. He pigeonholes the substantial charges brought against himself by Judge Parker and Mr. Earle. He ignores the plain record he made in the case of Paul Morton and that of the Tennessee Coal and Iron deal with Pierpont Morgan. He refuses to discuss the question of veracity raised by the letters of Archbishop Ireland to Mrs. Bellamy Storer. He will not accept responsibility for his semi-public slurs on President Taft or his brutal and profane insults to Judge Anderson; and though he cannot deny their utterance in the face of neumerous respectable auditors of the same, he seeks to sidetrack them by declaring that only statements signed by himself are to be accepted as authentic. This it will be observed also leaves him free to disavow the accuracy of stenographic reports of the wild fictions with which he is wont to embellish his public speeches. To call such a man brave would be to travesty the word. No man who is habitually unveracious or a dodger of the consequences of his own sayings and doings can be otherwise than timorous at heart. For every departure from or avoidance of the truth is but the confession of fear of what may follow should the acts be known. Where cowardice abides not, alsehood and its twin brother evasiveness cannot exist. Timidity is both the father and mother of all lapses from the verities.—Norfolk Virginian Pilot.

RELAY RACE AT TRINITY.

Between Undergraduate Classes—Freshmen Were the Winners.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., Nov. 5.—The long looked forward to relay race between the undergraduate classes of Trinity College, was pulled off here this evening. The men from each class participated in the race, each man running one mile. The freshmen won the race, making the ten miles in 58 minutes, ten seconds. Following the freshmen came the juniors, sophomores and seniors in the order named. The Seniors coming in far behind. A large crowd of students and citizens were out to see the race.

IOWA DECREASES.

Falling Off in Population of the Western State.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The population of the State of Iowa is 2,224,771 according to the enumeration in the 13th census made public today. This is a decrease of 7,008 or 0.3 per cent. under 2,231,853 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 319,572, or 16.7 per cent. The decrease in the population did not surprise Census Buis a decrease of 7,008 or 0.3 per cent. reau officials as it was in line with what was expected in the agricultural regions of the middle west.

There has been a large emigration from Iowa into Canada and into Western States and territories in search of cheaper lands than can be obtained at home.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. It's positively guaranteed for stomach, liver or kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c at Robert R. Bellamy's.

POLICE AND FIRE COMMISSION

Regular Monthly Meeting Held Last Night—Reports Received and Routine Matters Considered—Horse Deal.

The Police and Fire Commission met in regular monthly session in the Commissioner's office in the City Hall last night with Chairman Wm. E. Springer presiding and Commissioners Barry and French, Chief of Police N. J. Williams and Chief Chas. Schnibben, of the Fire Department, in attendance. The Commission was in session for an hour, during which reports from the two departments for the month of October were received and a number of matters of interest acted upon.

The report of Chief Schnibben showed that during the month of October the department responded to eight alarms, all of which were turned in the latter part of the month, the causes of fire being as follows: Sparks from chimney, 4; defective flues, 3; electric wiring, 1. The total amount of fire losses for the month will not exceed $1,500. The report of Chief Williams showed 119 arrests, 42 whites and 77 colored, during the month of October. Both reports were ordered placed on file.

A communication was read from the Board of Audit and Finance relative to the exchange of an old fire horse for 150 bushels of oats, claiming that the Commission did not have authority to sell the animal, besides, that the exchange of the horse for oats is not shown on the books of the Audit and Finance at present. Chairman Springer made a statement in explanation of the sale of the horse, his remarks being substantially as follows:

"There was a horse in the fire department about 22 years old and well worn from service. Chief Schnibben reported the horse unfit for active service in the fire department; not even worth the feed it was consuming. So it was decided best to sell the animal, provided a satisfactory price was received. Chief Schnibben went to see two or three persons most likely to buy and one offered him $50 and another offered $75. He thought the horse should bring more and did not accept the last offer until a few days later, when he was informed by the party making the offer that he had reconsidered the matter and would not give $75 for the horse. The chief thought that he could make an advantageous trade for oats with the firm from which the city has been buying oats for the fire department. So we exchanged the horse for 150 bushels of oats, equal to $82.50. That is all there is to it. But in order that the proper credit might appear on the books I had the purchaser to pay over to Chief Schnibben the sum of $82.30, for which the City Clerk and Treasurer has given a receipt (which was exhibited to the commission and entered on the records of the meeting), and this money will be turned back over to the purchaser of the horse for the 150 bushels of oats."

As will be noted, there is no change except in the way the transactions will appear on the books. The commission takes the position that if it has the right to purchase fire horses it has a right to sell them. The statement was also made at the meeting that anybody would know that if the horse which was sold is not in the department it takes just that much less feed and the unused portion of the appropriation for this purpose remains in the city treasury.

Bids were read for furnishing 12 overcoats for members of the police department as follows: The M. C. Lilly Co., $25; Southerland, Simon & Co., $21.72 and J. W. H. Fuchs, $21.75. Owing to the fact that Southerland, Simon & Co., did not send samples of lining or make any reference to lining, this being called for in the request for bids, Chairman Springer recommended that the bid of Mr. Fuchs be accepted. Upon motion of Commissioner French, seconded by Capt. Barry, it was ordered that the contract be let to Mr. Fuchs, subject to approval by the Board of Audit and Finance.

Chief Schnibben reported that on Oct. 23rd he suspended Fireman G. H. Holmes and H. W. Wright for engaging in a fisticuff at the Fourth and Princess streets station, he having been notified of the fight while it was in progress by a lady living in the vicinity. Messrs. Holmes and Wright appeared before the commission, admitted the charge and expressed their regrets. The affair did not amount to very much and the commission decided that the suspension of two weeks was sufficient punishment, therefore, upon motion of Commissioner French it was ordered that the men be allowed to return to their positions this morning.

TWO FOR SHOPLIFTING.

Negro Man and Woman Arrested at Rehder's Store Last Night.

Because he wanted to present his best girl with a ladies' sweater and not being particular how he obtained the much desired garment, Don Pollock, colored, and his lady love, Ellen Henry, the recipient of the gift, spent last night in cells at the City Hall. Pollock and the Henry woman were in the store of J. H. Rehder & Co., on North Fourth street, and the actions of the couple were such as to arouse the suspicions of Mr. A. Alligood, one of the salesmen. He kept a close watch on the two and his efforts were rewarded, for presently he saw Bollock take a ladies' sweater and pass it over to the woman. Both were held at the store until the arrival of Sergeant H. W. Howell and the patrol wagon, in which they were conveyed to the city prison. They will be given hearing before the Recorder tomorrow morning.

Rev. Livingston Johnson.

Rev. Livingston Johnson, corresponding secretary of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention, arrived in the city late last night and will fill the pulpit at the First Baptist church today, both morning and evening. Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, the pastor, has gone to Elizabeth City, where he is assisting in a revival meeting.

TWO SUITS ARE STARTED

Mr. Julius Hahn Brings Action Against Southern National Bank and J. P. Russ, et al., Sues Acme Mfg. Company.

Though not involving a great amount of money, two ratner important and interesting civil actions were started in Superior Court yesterday. One is brought by Julius Hann against the Southern National Bank and the other is by J. P. Russ, et al., against the Acme Mfg. Company.

Complaint has not been filed in neither action. However, the nature of the suits have been learned. Mr. Hahn will seek to recover from the Southern National Bank the sum of $1,025. He will allege in his complaint that he sold to T. R. Windley 90,525 worth of cross-ties; that the bank loaned to Mr. Windley $4,500, which was paid over to the plaintiff as part of the purchase money, the bank agreeing, it will be alleged, to hold the ties in trust and when they were sold to pay, first the $4,500 borrowed by Mr. Windley and interest and then pay to the plaintiff the remainder of the amount due for cross-ties, $1,025, providing the ties brought enough to settle both claims. The plaintiff will allege further, that the cross-ties brought in the neighborhood of $9,000, and that the bank, acting as trustee to him, paid off the amount owed it, and instead of paying the remainder due plaintiff from Mr. Windley, paid over to Mr. Windley the residue and ignored plaintiff's lien on the cross-ties; therefore the plaintiff will allege wrongful conversion on the part of the bank of money due plaintiff by Mr. Windley, for which the bank was acting as trustee. Herbert McClammy, Esq., is counsel for the plaintiff.

The action of J. P. Russ, et al., against the Acme Mfg. Company, is to recover $2,000 for alleged damages to timbers on their lands by acid escaping from the company's factory at Cronly. They will allege that the escape of acid has been noted for about four years and during that time their property has been damaged to the extent of the amount which will be asked. Kellum & Loughlin represent the plaintiffs.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.

Charles Moseley, Colored, Nabbed for Stealing a Coat.

Charged with the larceny of a coat from the store of The A. David Co., where he has been employed as porter for the past seven years, Charles Moseley, colored, was arrested yesterday morning by Constable Savage. When the home of Moseley was searched several yards of material for suits were found and later identified by Mr. E. E. David as the property of the firm. The coat alleged to have been stolen was located at the news stand run by William H. Moore, colored, who was later arrested on a warrant charging him with larceny and receiving stolen goods. Moore gave $200 bond for his appearance at trial before Justice Harriss tomorrow, but Moseley was not so fortunate and was committed to jail.

It is said that Moseley has admitted the coat and says that he carried it to Moore's place to pawn it for 50 cents. Moore says that Moseley went to his place yesterday morning to borrow 25 cents; that Moseley bought a paper and was given 20 cents in change and that Moseley asked permission to leave the coat in his place of business, where it was found by Officer Savage.

SERVICES AT ST. JOHN'S.

Leaflet Service Every Sunday Evening at 8 O'clock—Announcement.

Beginning with this Sunday night and continuing through the Winter there will be service and sermon at St. John's Episcopal church, Third and Red Cross streets, every Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The service will be a leaflet service so that everybody can participate in it easily, the music will be hearty, and the sermons along strictly practical lines. Seats are free at all services. Everybody cordially invited and a hearty welcome will be given to all who come.

THE COOPER GUANO CO.

Certificate of Incorporation Received Here Yesterday.

Certificate of incorporation of The Cooper Guano Company, recently granted a charter by the Secretary of State, was received at the office of the Clerk of Superior Court yesterday morning. The company is chartered to manufacture and sell guano with principal offices at No. 500 North Nutt street. The authorized capital stock is $100,000, but the company begins business on $10,000, which has been subscribed as follows: W. B. Cooper, 90 shares; I. W. Cooper, five shares, and W. R. Surles, of Orrum, five shares.

Both Speedy and Effective.

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Robt. R. Bellamy.

Those Who Seek Slimness.

Overfat men and women, mortified and humiliated by the publicity of conspicuous rolls and billows of fat, are gradually learning that through the discovery of an eminent physician the burden of overfatness is taken from them, leaving the figure attractively proportioned, the flesh firm, the skin smooth, and the general health vastly improved, without dieting, exercise, or resulting wrinkles or flabbiness. There is no equal and no substitute for the famous Marmola Prescription, but these is a new and more convenient form—a tablet form of this safe fat remover, Marmola Prescription Tablets contain the same harmless, effective ingredients as the original prescription that has enabled so many thousands of uncomfortable men and women to reduce their weight evenly and steadily at the rate of a pound or more a day. An exceptionably large case of these Marmola Prescription Tablets is sold by all druggists at 75c or sent you direct by the Marmola Company, 996 Monroe Ave., Detroit, Mich., on receipt of price.

DR. KINGSBURY STRICKEN.

Suffered Attack Yesterday Evening at His Home in This City.

The many friends in Wilmington and all over the State will hear with infinite regret that the venerable Dr. Theodore B. Kingsbury yesterday evening about 6 o'clock suffered a recurrent attack of paralysis and that last night his condition was regarded critical. Dr. Kingsbury was seated in the family room at his residence, No. 211 South Fifth street, reading his Bible when he reached up to turn off an electric light, suffering the stroke. His vocal organs are affected and last night he did not recognize those about him. Dr. Kingsbury suffered a similar attack about two years ago, but the one last night seemed more acute. He is in the 83rd year of his age. Friends earnestly hope that he will recover and soon be himself again.

MISS KEITH STILL ILL.

Recovery from Serious Burns Seems Probable—Mr. Keith at Home.

Mr. B. F. Keith returned yesterday morning from Raleigh, where he was called last Monday on account of the serious accident to his daughter, Miss Adeline Keith, who was seriously burned at Meredith College Sunday afternoon. The injuries she sustained in the unfortunate accident, were more serious than at first thought, and she remained in a lingering condition for three days. While she has not recovered sufficiently to say that she is out of danger, the physicians stated that she was somewhat improved, which will be gratifying news to her many anxious friends in the city. Mrs. Keith, who went to Raleigh soon after the distressing accident occurred, remains at her bedside.

CALL TO YOUNG MEN.

Meeting Monday Night for Final Discussion Before Election Day.

The Young Men's Democratic Club, recently organized here upon the call of State Chairman A. H. Eller, will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Commissioners' Room at the Court House for a final arrangement of plans preparatory to the election of the day following. There will likely be several speakers and plans of interest to each and everyone. Every member of the club and those who have affiliated with the organization since its organization, as well as every young man interested in his State and Nation is invited to be present. The call for the meeting was issued last night by President Woodus Kellum, who is arranging the programme of the evening.

CORSET DEMONSTRATION.

Expert Corsetiere at Store of C. H. Fore & Co., This Week.

For the purpose of demonstrating the famous Redfern corsets, an expert corsétiere, Miss Ball, of New York, will be at the store of Messrs. C. H. Fore & Co., 113 Market street, for the week beginning tomorrow morning. Miss Ball has been trained by the corset designer, recognized not only in this country, but in the fashion centres of Europe, as the highest exponent of the corset art, the designer of Redfern whalebone corsets. Miss Ball will give fittings at any time or by appointment through the post or by 'phone. There is no charge for the service and the public is cordially invited to call at the store or make appointments as desired.

BROOKLYN BAPTIST CHURCH.

Special Announcement of Services Teher Today—All Invited.

Rev. C. F. Whitlock, the pastor, will preach at both services at Brooklyn Baptist Church today. His subject for the morning will be "A Walk With Jesus." He promises to make this subject very interesting to all who love Christ and is especially anxious to have all his members attend. The Lord's supper will be administered and all the new members are especially requested to be present. The evening subject will be "The Danger of Being Deceived." All are invited to attend the services.

Death of Mrs. A. C. Johnson.

Mrs E. F. Johnson returned yesterday from Monroe, where she attended the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. C. Johnson, who passed away at her home at that place last Wednesday. The funeral was held on Thursday and the remains interred there. Mr. A. C. Johnson, formerly a resident of this city, is well known here and has many friends, who will regret to learn of the death of his wife.

ATTRACTIVE SERVICES.

To be Held at St. James' Church During Month.

Tonight will mark the beginning of a series of services at St. James' Church, which it is the purpose of the rector, Dr. Milton, to continue through the Winter. The services are under the special auspices of the Brotherhood of St. James', and though they are open to the general public they are especially designed to meet the needs of the men of the community. The sermon will be directed to the practical problems of the everyday life, and especially of the present times and conditions.

During the month of November, the general theme of a series of four sermons will be "The Problem of Indifference." In the preparation of these sermons, Dr. Milton has striven to get at the root cause of the indifference of the average man to the call of the higher duties of religion in the Church, the State, and society. His discussion of the general subject will be an attempt to meet the objections of those who are indifferent to such calls, fairly and squarely, and to show where the real difficulty lies.

Though these will be primarily preaching services, the music will be an especial feature. The services at eight will be preceded by a short organ recital at 7:45, and room will be given during the service for two anthems of a popular character. Effort will be made to secure congregational singing by the choice old hymns that are generally familiar. Dr. Milton realizes that there are many persons outside the Episcopal Church who are not familiar with the Episcopal service of the Prayer Book in its regular order, and yet he would like the privilege of preaching occasionally, at least, to all such persons, regardless of their church preference. He has so arranged the short service therefore, that any one can follow it even if he has never seen a prayer book. It will be short, simple and within the reach of everybody. The seats at these night services are all free, and the stranger or visitor is at liberty to come and sit where he or she will. Both the Brotherhood and congregation unite with the rector in their desire to welcome any and everybody to join with them in their effort to make these services as far-reaching in their influence as possible.

The organ recital tonight will consist of the following selections: "War March of the Priests" by Mendelssohn; "In Paradisium" by Dubois; "Grand Chorus" by Hollins.

The anthems by the choir will be: "Savior, When Night Involves the Skies" by Shelley, and "The Mellow Eve is Gliding" by Holden.

Men's Meeting Today.

Rev. Dr. John M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will deliver the address at the men's meeting at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. at 5 o'clock this afternoon. His subject will be "A Failure Retrieved." The men of the city, whether members of the association or not, are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

GENERAL PRACTICE FOR ADULTS TOMORROW NIGHT.

Nothing is being left undone to make the Spielgartenfest a great success. With a large cast of society leaders in the principal roles at the night performances and "heaps" of children, all ages, in the comic opera which will be presented in the afternoons, the "Spiel" will undoubtedly attract considerable attention. The dates have been decided upon. Friday and Saturday afternoons and nights, November 18th and 19th, four performances will be given, each afternoon and night will be a distinctly different show. The costuming, stage effects and musical numbers will all be entirely different; nothing used in last season's Slumberland extravaganza will be shown or heard this year. A general rehearsal for all adults in the play is called for Monday night at 8 o'clock. The Dutch girls, Yama Yama girls, double sextette and waiters will also meet at that time.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. B. H. Bethea went to Laurinburg yesterday, where he will spend Sunday with friends.

—Rev. W. B. Rivenbark, of Teacheys, was in Wilmington yesterday on business.

—Prof. J. A. Bryson, of Funston Institute, spent Friday and Saturday in the city. He preaches at Willard today.

—Rev. C. F. Whitlock, pastor of Brooklyn Baptist Church, will aid in a meeting at Barlow's Chapel Church in Pender county this week. His coworked in this meeting will be the pastor, Rev. J. H. Beck.

—The host of friends of the venerable and beloved Mr. B. G. Worth will be pleased to learn that his condition was much improved yesterday. He was cheerful and it is hoped he will soon be able to be on the streets, greeting his friends with the sunny cordiality that has ever marked his long and useful life.

JOINT DEBATE IN PENDER.

Johnson Meets Vann at School House and Victory Was His.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Nov. 5.—According to advertisement of the appointment of Hon. Rivers D. Johnson, candidate for the State Senate in this district, at Matthew's School House, on Horse Branch, tonight, the speaker on reaching the scene found from 150 to 200 people present, also C. C. Vann, Republican candidate for the Legislature in Duplin county, who asked for a division of time, which was promptly granted. Vann led off for 20 minutes, being followed by Johnson, who flayed the Republican policies and showed up in true light the bad record of the Republican policies and showed up in true light the bad record of the Republicans when in power in North Carolina. Vann came back in a 20 minutes' rejoinder, making a feeble defense of Marion Butler's record in connection with the repudiated bonds and when Johnson came back in his rejoinder of 20 minutes, he completely snowed Vann under and closed with an appeal for Democrats present to rally to the support of Democracy. Mr. Vann was so badly drubbed that he was advised to go back home and never attempt another joint debate.

STOWAWAYS FREED.

Released on Orders from Washington at Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 5.—Confined in Norfolk city jail awaiting the arrival of a ship to take them back to England from whence they came, Morris Hertzberg and Sully Perlman, were today given their liberty by the United States Government. Hertzberg and Perlman came over on the British steamer North Point about two weeks ago, were denied entrance at Philadelphia, and when they reached Norfolk were ordered held by the government despite the fact that a Newport News merchant offered to put up $1,000 bond. The men were stowaways on the North Point. The order from the Department of Commerce and Labor giving the men their liberty was a great surprise to them.

LEGAL FIGHT OVER POODLE.

French Dog Seized by Sheriff at Atlanta and Held Prisoner.

Atlanta, Nov. 5.—Fuzzy Wuzzy, a French poodle, will be the star feature of the January session of the Atlanta city court on account of rival claims for his possession made by W. W. Kelly and J. C. Palmer.

The poodle has been seized by the sheriff under bail trover papers and was yesterday placed in the sheriff's quarters at the city jail where Fuzzy Wuzzy will be a prisoner until the case is disposed of by the court.

LOCAL DOTS.

—By deed filed for record yesterday James Owen Reilly transfers to J. Haughton James, for $1 and other considerations, lot on west side of Ninth, 189 feet south of Wright street, 33x150 feet in size.

—Owing to the illness of the rector last Thursday evening the regular meeting of St. James' Brotherhood was postponed until this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held just before the church services.

—Mr. J. C. Pierce, of this city, dropped into the office last night to say that he had lowered the world's record for bicycle racing on one of the macadam roads out of Wilmington, having cleaned up half a mile in 25 seconds.

—License was issued yesterday for the marriage of Mr. Joseph F. Hardison and Mrs. Phoebe C. Jenkins, which was announced to take place at the home of the bride-elect, No. 814 Wooster street, at 6 o'clock last evening, the ceremony to be performed by Rev. Mr. Smith.

—There will be a meeting at Republican headquarters over the shoe store of Messrs. Peterson & Kulls, 202 North Front street, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of explaining the Australian ticket to be voted on Tuesday, election day. All Republicans are invited to be present.

—Up to noon yesterday the police blotter at the City Hall did not show a single arrest for the month of November. This is an unusually good record and is taken to mean the "calm before the storm." The first name on the blotter for the month was put on yesterday afternoon when a drunk was brought in.

—Claim and delivery papers were served on Mr. V. M. Gilbert, formerly of this city, but now of Norfolk, Va., last night by Constable Savage, for clothing belonging to Mrs. Gilbert, who instituted the action in Justice Harriss' court. Mr. Gilbert gave bond for double the amount of the value of the clothing and the hearing will be before the magistrate tomorrow at noon.

—It was reported last night that two small boys had a narrow escape from drowning at foot of Church street yesterday about noon, when a small boat, in which they were rowing near the shore, was capsized. Upon investigation it was stated that the accident occurred Thursday. The boys, it seems, were rescued by a colored man. There were three boys in the boat, but one was not in immediate danger when the colored man came to their assistance.

BASKETBALL LAST NIGHT.

First Match Game of Season at the Y. M. C. A.—Other Notes.

The first match game of basketball of the season at the Y. M. C. A. was played in the gymnasium last night between two picked teams, one captained by Mr. R. P. Houston and the other by Mr. J. Utley King. The team captained by Mr. King won the honors of the contest, the score being 32 to 29.

The regular meeting and fellowship supper of the Bible Study Club will be held tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. Gymnasium classes meet at 6:10 and 6:15 P. M.

All men of the city are invited to attend the mass meeting in the parlors of the association this afternoon at 5 o'clock, when an address will be made by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

To Introduce Game of Socker.

The game of Socker or Association football is being introduced in Wilmington by Dr. Russell Bellamy, who says that a team will be organized in a short time and that several games will likely be arranged. Among those whom Dr. Bellamy has interested are Mr. Holt, of the Acme Tea Chest Co., Mr. Tom Findley, Mr. F. Nine, Mr. Walter Storm and others. It is hoped during the Winter to arrange games with members of the crews of several of the English tramp steamers in port.

Death of Infant Daughter.

Friends in this city and elsewhere will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Colburn, of Pender county, in the death of their five-months-old daughter, Elizabeth Colburn, which occurred at the James Walker Memorial Hospital Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The body was taken yesterday morning to Pocomoka City, Md., where the mother formerly resided for interment.

Had Rather Narrow Escape.

Master Hubert Carter, a messenger boy for the Western Union Telegraph Co., had a rather narrow escape from serious injury yesterday morning, at Second and Princess streets, when he fell from his bicycle under an automobile being driven by Mr. E. A. Todd. The lad was pretty badly shaken up and somewhat bruised, but was not painfully injured. The wheels of the bicycle slipped on the vitrified brick pavement and threw the lad directly under the auto. Mr. Todd had noticed the nearness of the boy's bicycle and had his machine under perfect control, therefore he was able to bring his auto to a standstill almost instantly.

The Fornia Recital.

A brilliant feature of this week, in fact, one of the greatest musical events Wilmington has ever held—will be the recital Friday night at the Academy of Music by Rita Fornia, the noted grand opera soprano. Her coming is indeed an important one and should be deeply appreciated by the music lovers of Wilmington. Not only does Fornia deserve a large audience, but those who are backing her coming deserve such, and if other of the very highest type of musical attractions are to be obtained for Wilmington encouragement must be given. It is useless to say anything in praise of Fornia. She is too well known in the world of music to need comment, either as to her ability or about her brilliant achievements. But not only will Rita Fornia be offered the people of Wilmington, but Arturo Tibaldi, the famed English violinist, will be presented at her recital. This will make a great double star recital. Tibaldi is a violinist of rare ability and ranks with the very best.

The sale of seats has been on at Plummer's for two days and will continue to the night of the recital. The sale is not by any means as large as it should be. So music lovers should bestir themselves in the interest of Wilmington from a high-class musical standpoint.

The Caveney Company Coming.

The subscribers to the Boys' Brigade Lyceum course were so thoroughly pleased with the first number, the Hinshaw Grand Opera Singers, that numerous inquiries are received at the armory daily concerning the next number and those interested will be pleased to know that the next entertainment will be held on Monday night, November 14th. The Caveney Company Entertainers will be the attraction. This company is composed of Mr. H. Franklin Caveney, crayon artist, cartoonist, clay modeler and impersonator, and Marie M. Caveney, soprano soloist and pianist. Of these the press of the country is lavish in praise. The Yonkers (N. Y.) Statesman says: "J. Franklin Caveney delighted his audience last evening at the hall of the Woman's Institute with his rapid and artistic picture work. As fast as his hand could travel over the paper, Mr. Caveney produced, in almost bewildering succession, various types of human countenance, transformations and landscapes. He did not depend alone upon his skill in caricature, but with colored chalks produced beautiful scenes of land and water, day and night, Winter and Summer. Each step of his work was a surprise, and the interest and wonder of the audience increased to the end. The bright and entertaining talk with which Mr. Caveney accompanied his drawing was an added element of amusement and interest, and his evening was the best of the entire course."

Marie M. Caveney has appeared in all the great cities in this country and Canada and has received only the highest praise. The Toronto (Ont.) Globe says: "Her musical numbers were received with hearty applause," and the Cleveland (Ohio) Leader states that she has "a voice of exceptional sweetness and briliancy," while the Chicago Inter-Ocean asserts that she "proved a great favorite with the audience."

There are five more numbers in this course. A few season tickets remain unsold and these may be secured at the reduced price of $2 while they last from Mr. Chas. Dushan, general secretary of the Brigade. The sale of reserved seats will begin next Saturday morning and will continue through Monday until 6 P. M., at Dosher Bros., on Front street. There will be a charge of 10 cents for this accommodation.

At the Bijou Tomorrow.

Three splendid pictures will be shown at the Bijou theatre tomorrow. They are entitled "The Gambler's Wife," a strong drama with a very fine moral showing the curse of gambling; "Hank and Lank," an inexpressibly funny comedy pair, "The Pony Express Rider," a Western drama.

Joyland.

There will be two big feature films on for Monday. A special programme for the children and one that will suit the grown-ups as well, will be offered. A "Delightful Dolly," a picture that will please everybody, and last but not least, will be "Monogram Cigarette," a drama that is full of human interest from beginning to end. The programme changes daily.

TAFT SEES HANDWRITING.

Heart to Heart Talk With Departments for Economy.

Washington Nov. 5.—President Taft intends to take a hand in the economy policies he is anxious to see introduced in all government departments.

Mr. Taft plans to have a heart-to-heart talk with the committees of government employes that have been appointed by the various secretaries to work out plans for economizing. Each department had appointed a committee of three or more, so about forty men, comparatively the rank and file of the forces, will meet the President. Frederick A. Cleveland, who has just been named to head the economy commission which is to pass upon all suggestions, will be present.

It is said that the President may touch upon the subject of dismissals of old employes.

SOUTHERN RICE GROWERS.

Board of Directors Has Important Meeting at Crowley.

Crowley, La., Nov. 5.—Members of the board of directors of the Southern Rice Growers' Association gathered here today for the purpose of perfecting final organizations.

In addition to the directors, many rice planters from Louisiana and Texas interested in the rice holding movement as proposed by the growers' association are in attendance.

CHANGE BOATS.

New Style of Torpedoes to be Constructed for Department.

Washington, Nov. 5.—General Manager Walter A. Post, of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, accompanied by Decourcey May and Henry S. Grove, president of the New York Shipbuilding Company and the Cramps Company, respectively, called upon the acting Secretary of the Navy Beckman Winthrop, yesterday, to seek a change in the specifications for the four new torpedo destroyers, bids for which will be opened Wednesday.

The specifications call for trials of the vessels in water not less than 40 fathoms deep. The shipbuilders mentioned wanted them changed in order to permit thetrials to be held over the to permit the trials to be held over the as only about 25 fatnoms

It was the intention of the department to have the trials held over the Rockland, Maine, course.

Mr. Winthrop said he would take the matter under consideration.

MARRIED IN RALEIGH.

Jacques Busbee Claims Miss Royster as Bride.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, Nov. 4.—The people of Raleigh were treated to a pleasant surprise last afternoon through the quiet marriage of Mr. Jacques Busbee, well known artist here, and Miss Julianna Royster, who is also a young woman of decided artistic talents. They were married quietly at the home of the bride at 3 o'clock, Dr. North, pastor of Edenton street Methodist church officiating. They left on the 4:05 west-bound train for Chapel Hill, where they will spend two weeks. While there Mr. Busbee will paint the oil portrait of General William R. Davie for the Society of the Sons of the Revolution, which is to be presented to the State November 15th. Mr. Busbee is a son of the late Charles M. Busbee and is a young man of great artistic talent. Both bride and bridegroom are especially esteemed here.

DRAINAGE IN ANSON.

Owners Organize to Reclaim Fertile Creek Valleys.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Nov. 5.—A meeting was held in the Court House here today of large importance to Anson county. The purpose of the meeting was to take steps looking to the drainage of Brown Creek swamp. This creek runs entirely through the county, and if the creek valley can be drained several thousands of acres of very valuable land will be brought into cultivation. Mr. E. K. Barrett, of Peachland, is very enthusiastic in the matter and is at the head of the movement to organize the drainage district and issue the bonds and drain the swamp. In his work Mr. Barrett has, so far, found no opposition and the prospect looks bright for the proposition.

STRICKEN DURING ADDRESS.

Dr. James C. Monaghan, of New York in Critical Condition.

Portage, Wis., Nov. 5.—Dr. James C. Monaghan, of New York, scholar and editor and chief of the division of consular representatives under President Roosevelt, was stricken with apoplexy here last night while in the midst of an address before a large audience at the opera house. His condition is said to be critical.

COTTON MARKET MAKING GAINS

Continued Strength on Further Covering—Closed Firm at Net Advance of 8 to 16 Points. Conditions.

New York, Nov. 5.—The cotton market showed continued strength today on further covering and bull support with the close firm at a net advance of 8 to 16 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 5 points in response to somewhat disappointing Liverpool cables. But private advices indicated that the relatively easy showing of the English market had been due to a crop estimate of 13,000,000 bales, published by a Georgia authority and as it had been rumored last Wednesday that this report would be issued today, it was evidently considered discounted in local circles. Moreover a crop estimate published by a cotton firm of 11,679,000 bales tended to offset the larger estimate mentioned above. At any rate right after the opening prices here firmed up and continued to advance until the market had shown a net gain of 17 to 17 points on active positions. At this level there was considerable realizing and slight reactions occurred, but fresh buying orders seemed to reach the market on every little dip and closing prices were not far off from the top. It was considered from the action of the market that big short interests were less willing to stand on their position over the week, and the holiday on Tuesday and the census report on Wednesday mornins than the bulls were to carry their contracts and possibly apprehensions of unfavorable weather in the South following the storms north of the belt had some influence on the day's trading. Other factors in favor of the advance were the favorable showing of the week-end figures and the fact that Southern spot markets as officially reported after the close of the market on Friday had shown advances of from 1-16 to 3-16 cent thus tending to confirm claims of a firmer spot situation as a result of frost damage reports. More or less wire trouble was being reported today, delaying Southern news to no small extent, but such few messages as came through indicated firm spot holders and a somewhat better demand.

Estimated receipts at the ports today 50,000 against 67,534 last week and 56,201 last year; for the week 375,000 bales against 390,594 last week and 377,388 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 14,249 bales against 11,255 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 15 points advance. Middling uplands 14.80; middling gulf 15.05; sales none. Futures opened steady and closed firm:

COTTON MARKET ERRATIC.

Fair Gains Made in Late Trading—Opening Was Depressed.

(Special tSar Telegram.)

New York, Nov. 5.—The market was very erratic with frequent changes and no assignable cause easily moved by small orders. Qwing to poor cables the pening was depressed, but the decline was short lived and a fair gain followed. Bradstreet reports during the late frost the matured bolls escaped and less damage done than supposed. A Georgia estimate points to 13-million bales, a Texas estimate to 11,365,000. Liverpool has about 800,000 in stock not a bull argument for the present and the week end, figures are not encouraging nor are trade reports. But the movement of the crop does not yet encourage bear operations.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Nov. 5.—The dry goods markets were quiet and steady for the day. Linens and Burlaps are strong with prices tending higher. A good advance business is being done by jobbers on fine and fancy cottons.

The ads will show you whether or not there's a chance today to buy that piece of furniture at your price.

RENEWED ACTIVITY IN STOCKS

Reactionary Tendency Checked by Statement From Railroad President—Contest for Higher Range of Prices.

New York, Nov. 5.—The speculative force in the stock renewed their contest today for a higher range of prices. The reactionary tendency which developed late yesterday was checked by the authoritative statement from President Brown, of the New York Central, contradicting the rumor that a sale of a large short term bond issue of that company was in contemplation.

That rumor was largely responsible for the sharp relapse in prices which occurred yesterday. President Brown's explicit assertion that the $10,000,000 Michigan Central note issue placed in Paris had cost that company but 4 3-4 per cent. net served to correct reports of an enormous interest rate which had been exacted for that financing.

Relieved of this depressing influence the speculation again set the discounting against the favorable conditions expected to follow the passing of the elections. The tone of mercantile reviews fostered the impression that business activities were waiting for relief from the unsettlement of political unrest in common with financial markets.

The call money market on Saturday at the stock exchange is merely nominal as loans made on Friday carry over until Monday. The tone of the time loan market was called decidedly strong and more active.

The foreign exchange market weakened sharply and this was believed to reflect the negotiations of additional bankers' finance bills in the Paris and London markets.

The actual cash holdings of the banks decreased here more than $6,900,000 instead of the estimated $3,000,000. The actual surplus is reduced to $5,729,000 and the excess of loans over deposits is again broadened.

The stock market closed easy under the influence of profit taking sales. Bonds were steady. Total sales par value $1,097,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call from last week. Total sales stocks 279,300 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Important purchases by the influential interests that have been on the buying side most of the week forced wheat higher today. The close was at a net advance of 1-2 to 5-8 to 7-8 to 1c. It was generally believed tonight that the greater part of the local short lines, big and little, had been covered. Corn at the finish showed a decline of 1-4 to 3-8c, to a shade higher and provisions were the same as last night to an additional cost of 37 1-2c.

Wheat—No. 2 red, 91 to 91 3-4; No. 3, 89 to 91; No. 2 hard, 91 to 91; No. 3 hard, 89 to 90; No. 1 northern, 1.06 to 1.04; No. 2 northern, 1.01 to 1.02; No. 3 northern, 99 to 1.02; No. 2 spring, 97 to 1.00; No. 3 spring, 95 to 99; velvet chaff, 90 to 98; durum, 89 to 90.

CAROLINA FRUIT EXCHANGE.

Annual Meeting Yesterday at Chadbourn Largely Attended—Report.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Chadbourn, N. C., Nov. 5.—The annual meeting of the Carolina Fruit Exchange was held here today and was attended by from 150 to 200 growers. The meeting was called to order in Edmond's Hall at 2 o'clock with Mr. J. J. Hendren presiding. After a full and free discussion of all matters pertaining to last season's business, it was decided to continue the operation of the exchange again the coming year during the berry season and, if possible, to enlarge the territory and scope of the work. Mr. I. M. Fleming, of Atlanta, general manager of the Exchange, was present as was also his chief clerk, Mr. L. T. Rowell, and Mr. Rowell's assistant in charge of the Chadbourn office, Mr. John H. Land. Mr. Fleming's report showed that during the past season the Exchange handled 43,582 crates and net profits of $1,907.53. Upon this showing the Exchange declared a dividend of 1.4 cents per crate to growers. It was decided to open an office at once and Mr. Rowell will be in charge. The outlook is in every way favorable for a profitable season.

CRATING OF STOVES.

Hardware Dealers Protest—Revolutionary Soldier—Strange

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 5.—Hardware dealers throughout North Carolina will be interested in the announcement that the Corporation Commission has postponed the date for the hearing of hardware dealers and railroad men on the question of the application of the requirement for crating stoves shipped intra-State as now required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission for inter-State shipment. The railroad men want this requirement to apply to shipments within the State of North Carolina and the hardware dealers are opposing it. The hearing was to be Nov. 22nd, but it develops that there is a hearing before the Corporation Commission of another State on that date so that the officers representing the railroads canot attend to both hearings the same day. Another date for the hearing will be announced later.

State authorities here have received from Miss Jane Hue, Springfield, Mo., a letter to the effect that the Daughters of the Revolution there have found the grave of Mathew Clifton, a Revolutionary soldier who appears to have been born in Raleigh, Dec. 22nd, 1755. They want information about him and also desires that the North Carolina Society, Daughters of the Revolution, shall take some part in the marking of the grave appropriately.

Complications increase in the case of the disappearance of the seven-months-old baby of Adam Avery and wife here last Wednesday; the statement made by the parents at the time being that while the mother was out an old negro woman came to see her, sent a girl who was there with the infant out for some purchase at the corner store and while she was gone, got away with the child. Since then the father, Adam Avery, left town telling his wife he was going to a neighboring town for a look around for the child and its abductor. Since then the police have learned that Avery and his wife had serious quarrels in which the husband expressed a belief that he was under no obligations to take care of the child. A telegram came last night to the wife from Avery for her to send him some more money so he could go on to a Virginia town where he suspected that the abductor had gone with the child. The police have advised the woman to not send any money and steps will be taken to look closer into the circumstances conecting the father with the disappearance of the child.

TAFT IN RICHMOND.

Virginians Want Him There on Return from Panama.

Washington, Nov. 5.—President Taft may stop over in Richmond on his way back to Washington from Panama. Senator Martin, accompanied by Maj. Hemphill, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, called upon the President today to invite him to attend and address the convention of the Virginia Teachers' Association in Richmond November 22nd.

As the President is considering returning by way of Hampton-Roads and landing at Newport News, he promised to give the matter favorable consideration.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

carried off her feet in the first few minutes of play by the splendid work of R. Morrison, Neeley, Stewart and K. Morrison.

Brown Defeats Yale.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 5.—Defeating Yale for the first time in the history of their football relations, Brown made the victory at Yale field today decisive by rolling up a total of 21 points and preventing Yale from scoring. Yale was outplayed from the start.

The brilliant work of Quarterback Sprackling, of Brown, including his forward pass to McKay in the last five minutes of the fourth period, and McKay's spectacular run of 50 yards for a touchdown, were features of the game.

Early in the game Halfback Field, of the Yale team, was injured and had to be carried off the field. After the game the Brown men did the snake dance about Yale field, the first time any team except those of Princeton and Harvard has so performed.

Cornell Easy for Harvard.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 5.—Harvard crushed Cornell on Soldiers' field with the greatest ease today, but suffered the humiliation of being scored upon for the first time this season through a fumble by Pierce, a substitute back, in the last four minutes of play. The final score was Harvard 27; Cornell 5. Substitutes ran onto the field about every two minutes and before time was called Harvard had played 32 men and Cornell had sent 24 men into the game. Forward passes were carried off with ease and two, which were worked in the third period, brought the third touchdown.

CHURCH OR ROCK PILE.

Novel Sentence Passed Upon Kansas City Boys.

Kansas City, Nov. 5.—"Break rock for one hundred days or go to church every Sunday for six months." This is the way William Volker, president of the board of public welfare, sentenced three boys yesterday after they had been convicted of throwing eggs at pedestrians. When the boys appeared in the municipal court two of them were fined $50 each and the third $25.

The lads were arrested on October 31 on a charge of having thrown eggs at men who passed near their homes, and their parents refused to come to their aid.

After sentence had been passed upon them, all chose to attend church. In case they miss a service without a reasonable excuse they will be sent to jail.

FEAR TUG IS LOST.

Left Norfolk Last Wednesday With Barges in Tow.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 5.—Fears for the safety of the tug Asher J. Hudson and the barges Williamsburg and Carlton Hudson are entertained in marine circles tonight. The Hudson left here last Wednesday for New York with the barges in tow and no word has been received from her since. The tug was in the teeth of the northeaster that swept the North Atlantic coast last Thursday night.

It is thought that the Hudson might have put in at Chincoteague, Va., the last haven of refuge between the capes and Delaware breakwater.

Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—At a conference between miners and operators today it was agreed that the 5,000 miners in the Crooksville district, out on strike since April, will resume work pending an adjustment of minor differences, long in dispute by a board of miners and operators.

ic State Committee tonight claims that Governor Judson Harmon will be re-elected by an unprecedented majority, and that the Democratic Legislature will be chosen to select a successor to Senator Charles Dick.

Candidate Harding, the head of the Republican ticket, while expressing doubt as to the vote in Cleveland and Cincinnati, has declared his belief that the country districts will rally strongly to his support and elect him.

Beveridge and Kern.

Indianapolis, Nov. 5.—Whether Albert J. Beveridge shall continue to represent Indiana in the United States Senate or shall be succeeded by John W. Kern, Democratic candidate for Vice President in the last National election, is the question of overshadowing importance to be decided at the polls in this State next Tuesday. Senator Beveridge has made his fight as a "progressive" Republican and has everywhere re-affirmed his opposition to many of the schedules of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

Knox Spoke in Ohio.

Cincinnati, Nov. 5—"President Taft stands today the head and leader of the great Republican party, expressing its principles, carrying out its promises and guiding it with the confident mastery of a leader, but without any assumption of personal control of power beyond the right and proprieties attaching to his great office."

In these words Secretary of State Knox tonight extolled the chief executive of the Nation in a speech closing the Republican campaign in this section of Ohio and in which he pleaded for a Republican victory on Tuesday next as an endorsement of the President by his home State.

In Mississippi Tuesday.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 5.—Mississippi will vote for eight members of the House of Representatives next Tuesday. There is practically no opposition to the Democratic nominees who will be elected by the normal majorities. There will be three new faces in the delegaion. In the second district H. D. Stephens will succeed Thomas Spight; in the fifth S. A. Witherspoon will take the seat of Adam M. Byrd and B. P. Harrison will succeed E. J. Bowers as Congressman from the sixth district.

Louisiana Campaign.

New Orleans, Nov. 5.—The Louisiana political campaign closed tonight with a Republican mass meeting in this city, which was addressed by former Governor Richard Yates, of Illinois. Mr. Yates told the voters of the first and second districts that if New Orleans wanted Congress to endorse the proposed Panama Exposition they had better elect at least one Republican representative. Prospects favor the election of all the Democratic nominees next Tuesday.

TENNESSEE CAMPAIGN.

Both Hooper and "Bob" Taylor Are Claiming Victory.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 5.—Although both B. W. Hooper, fusion nominee, and Robert L. Taylor, Democratic nominee for Governor of Tennessee, aided by speakers on both sides will continue the campaign up to and including Monday night, November 7th, the real hard work of the campaign managers came to an end tonight. Taylor has had a special train and has covered a great deal of territory.

Most of the speaking for the fusion ticket has been by Democrats, although Hooper is a Republican.

The fusionists claim they will win by 15,000 to 20,000 majority. This claim is based on alleged dissatisfaction of Democrats with the Patterson regime. They estimate that 50,000 Democrats will support Hooper. The Democrats profess equal confidence of victory. The negro vote will be about evenly divided.

SMITH PREMIER MAN.

Multi-Millionaire Typewriter Manufacturer Dead at Syracuse.

Syracuse N. Y., Nov. 5.—Lyman C. Smith, multi-millionaire typewriter manufacturer, died here tonight. Mr. Smith was born at Torrington, Conn., March 31, 1850. He was a director and heavy stockholder in several electric railroad companies as well as in transportation companies on the Great Lakes. He left a forutne estimated in excess of $10,000,000.

Washington, Nov. 5.—A party of distinguished Virginians called at the White House today to recommend to President Taft the appointment of Judge A. C. Carson, a Virginian, as a judge of the new Court of Commerce. Judge Carson is now on the Supreme bench in the Philipine Islands and he and the President are old friends. In the party which called upon the President in his behalf were State Senator Fulton, of Richmond; Judge J. H. Harrison, of Pappahannock, and D. C. O'Flarity, of Warren county.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 5.—A special grand jury has been summoned to meet Wednesday to investigate the liberation of John Moore, a condemned murderer, from the Nelson county jail by a mob two weeks ago. The investigation will probably last a week. The Livingston jail was stormed by a mob made up of mountaineers, believed to have been friends of the prisoner. Moore is supposed to be in hiding in the Virginia mountains.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Sterling E. Kerr, Jr., 33rd degree honorary Mason of this city, has been appointed district deputy for the District of Columbia, of the Supreme Counsel of Scottish Rite Masons for the Southern jurisdiction. He succeeds Charles E. Rosenbaum, 33rd degree active, inspector general who was relieved at his own request.

ATTENTION, REPUBLICANS!

There will be a meeting held at Republican headquarters over the shoe store of Peterson & Ruifs', No. 202 North Front street, on Monday evening, Nov. 7, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of explaining the Australian ticket to be voted on Tuesday, election day.

All Republicans are invited to be present.

J. W. BROOKS,
Chairman.

JUSTICE IN ENGLAND.

Crippen Plays His Last Card and Loses Game.

London, Nov. 5.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, convicted of the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the actress, today played his last card and lost. He will be hanged on November 8th. The Criminal Court of Appeals heard his appeal from the conviction of the lower court and decided against him on all points. The court confirmed the order of execution which will be carried out on Tuesday next.

New York, Nov. 5.—To back his belief that Belle Elmore, the wife of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen still lives, Dr. J. M. Munyon, of Philadelphia, offered a reward here tonight of $50,000 to anyone who will produce her.

"I believe," continued Dr. Munyon, who formerly employed Crippen, "that either the woman is hiding to carry out one of the most consummate revenges in the annals of jealousy, or else that she has carried an advertising game too far. I have received several letters from persons who knew Mrs. Crippen, telling me that they had seen her alive in this country within the last few weeks."

WILL SUE ROOSEVELT.

Judge Baldwin Will Bring Action Against Former President.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 5.—Judge Simeon E. Baldwin, Democratic nominee for governor, tonight announced that he will bring suit against former President Roosevelt on account of certain statements said to have been made by Mr. Roosevelt in a speech in New Hampshire relative to Judge Baldwin's attitude on labor legislation.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 5.—Frank Kramer, of East Orange, N. J., and Jas. Moran, of Chelsea, won the six-day bicycle race which closed tonight, their mileage of 1,343 miles 8 laps marking a new American record for a ten hours a day six days' race.

ENGINEERS' REPORT OF THE PATHFINDING TOUR

Official Report of Recent Trip to be Made to the Wilmington to Charlotte Highway Association at its Next Meeting.

The following is the engineer's offical record of the recent pathfinding tour of the Wilmington to Charlotte Highway Association:

October 18th.—Three cars left the Market street ferry on the west side of the Cape Fear river at 5:42 A. M. The official Pathfinder, the E. M. F. 30. Passengers, W. D. McMillan, Jr., owner and driver; H deW. Rapalje, engineer; W. B. Cooper, A. M Chinnis, Dr. T. B. Carroll. Chalmers-Detroit, pasengers, Frank Herbst, driver; J H. Hinton owner; E, L. Hinton, and L. H. Skinner. Royal Tourist, Passengers, Mr. Warlick, driver; J. C. McEachern, C. D. Myers representing The Morning Star, and C. R. Humphreys, engineer. The Locomobile, left at some later time, passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Furney J. Gooding, owners and Mr. W. A. Wiley, driver, and overtook the other cars which were waiting at Cronly.

The cars followed the old Fayetteville road to Ricefield Branch, a distance of 4.9 miles. They then left the Fayeteville road and took the old Summerville road, crossing the A. C. L. railroad at Leland station, 6.2 miles. Crossed the S. A. L. railroad at Phoenix, 7.6 miles Crossed Hood's Creek, 12.9. Re-crossed S. A. L. road 14.6 miles Re-joined the Fayetteville road 14.9. Reached Cronly at 7.23 A. M., 18.3 Stop of ten minutes. There Mr. Chinnis left the party and Mr. G. Herbert Smith took his place. Left Cronly at 7:33. Crossed Livingston's Creek at 18.5 miles. Crossed S. A. L. 18.8 miles. Left Fayetteville road 19.4 miles. Taking the Wilmington-Whiteville road from this point. Crossed S. A. L. railroad 22.9 miles. At 7:58, 23.8 miles and delayed 40 minutes by breaking front right spring E. M. F. Spring blocked up and proceeded on the way at 8:38. Pased through Big Creek Swamp and Slap Swamp. Turned in from the Wilmington-Whiteville road to Wananish 36.7 miles. Passed Wananish 10:02, 37.3 miles, crossing A. C. L. railroad at this point. 10:06 were joined at Lake Waccamaw by A. L. Council and F. B. Gault's machines, who accompanied us to Lumberton. Passed Lake Waccamaw, crossing A. C. L. R. R., 10:30, distance 44.1 miles. Pased Hallsboro, crossing A. C. L. R. R., 10:30, distance 41.1 miles. Crossed the A. C. L. R. R. 44.4 miles. Crossed A. C. L. 44.8 miles. Entered Wilmington-Whiteville road 47 miles. Reached White Swamp at 48.5 miles. Crossed White Swamp at 49.5 miles. Reached Whiteville Court House 11:09, 50.8 miles. The Royal Tourist arived at Whiteville ten minutes late, having taken the Wilmington and Whiteville road from Lake Waccamaw to Whiteville and being stuck in Bogue Swamp ford for about ten minutes.

Party joined at Whiteville by a number of local machines who accompanied us to Boardman. Stopped at Whiteville 15 minutes, leaving at 11.24, reached Chadbourn 11:58, 58.3 miles. Left Chadbourn 12:05. Passed Evergreen 12:42, crossing A. C. L. R. R. Elrod Branch at this point 66.5 miles. Reached Boardman 1:06 where the party stopped for dinner. At Boardman the Royal Tourist car abandoned the trip, having lost a front wheel, C. D. Myers and Warlick remained with that car.

Locomobile delayed in Lumberton on account of repairing break of universal joint. Twenty minutes after party left, overtook party at Maxton. Left Lumberton 3:58, crossed steel bridge over Lumber river 86.9 miles. Crossed S. A. L. R. R. 88.4 miles. Crossed A C. L. main line 99.8 miles. Crossed S. A. L. R. R., 108.3. Crossed S. A. L. R. R. 109.6 miles. Arrived Maxton 5:35 P M., 109.7 miles. Met at Maxton by Scotland county delegation who escorted us to Laurinburg. Left Maxton 5:59 crossing new concrete bridge 112.1 miles. Crossed A. C. L. R. R. Bennettsville Branch, reached Laurinburg at 6:24, 118.9 miles. Reception at the Argyle Club. Left Laurinburg 6:44. Pased Laurel Hill at 7:10 and crossed S. A. L. at 7:10 and crossed S. A. L. at this point 125 miles. Crossed S. A. L. R. R. 12:55. Passed Old Hundred 7:25, 128 miles, crossing S. A. L. at this point. Arrived Hamlet at 8:05, distance 136.4, crossing S. A. L. main line at this point. Joined at Hamlet by a delegation from Richmond county, headed by Col. H. C. Dockery, of Rockingham. Left Hamlet 8:13, arrived at Rockingham 8:40 P. M., 142.5 miles. Stopped over night as the guests of Col. Dockery. Total elapsed time first day's run, 14.58.

October 19th— Left Rockingham 8:35 A. M., accompanied as far as Pee Dee river by delegation headed by Col. Dockery. Reached Wall's Ferry 9:30, distance 150 miles. Waited until 9:51 for the ferryman to come and left west side of Pee Dee river at 10:53. At 154.1 miles entered the Blewitt Falls and Lilesville road Crossed S. A. L. R. R. 156.5 miles. Re-crossed the S. A L. at 156.9. At 11:20 A. M., passed through Lilesville 157.4 miles. At 158 miles we turned off in the wrong road, crossing S A. L. by overhead bridge and went 2.3 miles out of the way in going and returning to the right road. Got on macadam road at 160.1 miles; crossed the A. C. L. railroad, Wadesboro to Florence line, 161.6 and proceeded on the macadam road to Wadesboro, reaching there at 12:10, distance 163.5 miles. Left Wadesboro 12:20. At 164.2 miles, the E. M. F. 30 stopped and sent back to Wadesboro for a pair of tire chains. The Locomobile and the Chalmers-Detroit proceeded on their way, crossing A. C. L. at Polkton at 12:50. The machines then took the old Lawyers' road to Charlotte. About one mile beyond Polkton Locomobile stalled in climbing a steep hill, not from lack of power but from wet clay roads, which were very slippery. The Chalmers-Detroit also stalled at the point. The Locomobile was finally cleared and aided in towing the Chalmer-Detroit up the hill. The next serious obstacle encountered was Richardson's Creek, which was necessary to ford, the water being above the knees and about 60 yards across. All occupants of the cars except the two drivers and Mr. and Mrs. Gooding were forced to get out of cars and wade. From this point until we reached the macadamized roads within 15 miles of Charlotte the road was first up one steep hill and down another. The entire road was clay and very slippery and both machines stalled many times in climbing these hills. Especially was the Locomobile unfortunate, which was continually skidding in the ditch on the side of the road and was pulled out continually by the Chalmers. At a fork of the road the occupants of the cars were directed the wrong way and lost about ten miles. At 7:30 the Locomobile was stopped by its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Gooding on account of the darkness and severe rainy weather. The Chalmers continued the way to Charlotte, carrying seven passengers including a guide who was picked up about 22 miles from Charlotte. Reached Charlotte at the Buford hotel at 9:45 P. M., distance 228.4 miles. The Locomobile arrived in Charlotte some time the following morning.

The passengers in the Chalmers were J. H. Hinton, owner; Frank Herbst, driver; E. L. Hinton, J. C. McEachin, Louis H. Skinner, C. R. Humphreys and Mr. Hamilton who acted as guide. The E. M. F. 30, after a loss of 26 minutes for tire chains, as noted above, started away from a point about three-quarters of a mile west of Wadesboro at 12:51 carrying a guide furnished by the committee at Wadesboro. At 166.2 miles were directed by the guide to turn off at a road to the right which led over very steep hills, three small rotten bridges, was badly gullied and showed little signs of travel. This road was followed for one mile and a half after which the machine cut across the country and re-entered main road in spite of contrary directions by the guide. At 1:46 P. M., crossed S. A. L railroad and passed through Polkton, distance 171 miles. At 172 miles and 172.5 miles crossed and re-crossed S. A. L. railroad; at 174.9 miles crossed high bridge over Lane's Creek. At 2:10 P. M. stopped 30 minutes to put in inner tube. At 176 miles, skidded in ditch but came out under good power. At 3:35 P. M., arived at Marshville, 180.9 miles, crossing the S. A. L. at this point; stopped at Marshville for cylinder oil and left Wadesboro guide here. Left Marshville at 3:54 P. M. At 5 P. M. at 189.8 miles crossed steel bridge over Richardson's creek. At 5:15 P. M. arrived at Monroe, distance 192.4 miles. Stopped here and made inquiries from all directions over telephones in effort to locate other two machines. W. B. Cooper left the party here. Had supper, took on gasoline and water and put ropes on tires, having lost shains in sticky clay hills between Polkton and Monroe. At Monroe took on C. L. McManaway, of Charlotte, as guide. Left Monroe at 9:05 P. M. and at 192.8 and 192.9 miles, crossed under main line of S. A. L. R. R. At 196.9 crossed the Charlotte division of S. A. L. R. R. At 203.2 miles reached section of road which was being torn up and graded preparatory to laying macadam. Went through soft mud and loose rock 2.8 miles to a point just outside of Matthews where a finished macadam road reacheed and continued to Charlotte. At 210 miles, crossed S. A. L. R. R. and re-crossed at 215.2. Arrived in Charlotte at Observer office at 12:40 distance 218.2 miles. Passengers, W. D. W. McMillan, owner and driver; H. deW. Rapalje, Dr, T. B. Carroll and Mr. McManaway, guide.

General condition of roads from Wilmington to Charlotte is very deep sand from ferry at Wilmington to Cronly but good grades, roads from Cronly to Chadbourn are fairly good earth roads, the bad features being need of better bridges and fills through swamps, notably White Marsh Swamp which is a mile wide and a mile east of Whiteville. From Chadbourn to Evergreen there is a good dirt road. Evergreen to Boardman, good dirt road. The bad features were one mile deep sand in a swamp 200 feet wide. From Boardman to Lumberton, just west of the Lumber river bridge, encountered very deep sand hills, and from there on sandy stretches of roads, aggregating about five miles of sand roads on the entire distance to Lumberton. From Lumberton to Rockingham there were exceptionally good roads, well graded and mostly sand clay, a little working needed at some points. Very dangerous, slippery and narow just beyond needed at some points. Very dangerous, slippery and narrow just beyond, repairs needed at some points. Very dangerous, slippery and narrow just beyond Rockingham approaching Pee Dee river. Wall's Ferry is a very dangerous and inconvenient crossing and should be replaced by a bridge or a much improved ferry by a bridge or an improved ferry with proper approaches. Especial attention is called also to ferry situated at Wilmington, N. C. This important gateway at the end of the highway should be provided with a modern and up-to-date ferry boat of ample capacity and have its own power which should be owned by the city, free to all and operated at all hours. The entire roads through Anson and Union counties, with the exception of short improved sections near Wadesboro and near Monroe, are in ver bad shape in respect to grades and in wet weather is nearly impassable at hills owing to the fact that the roads are built almost entirely of clay. The rock macadam roads of Mecklenburg county are substantially built but not as smoothly finished as macadam in New Hanover. The section traversed between Maxton and Charlotte needs new surfacing. The large number of railroad crossings along the route are objectionable but many of these can be eliminated by building short stretches of new roads along one side of the railroad. New and more permanent bridges are needed at many points and good fills should be made at their approaches and also through the numerous shallow swamps on the eastern portion of the route.

Return Tour by Alternate Routes.

October 20.—Pathfinder E. M. F. 30 left Charlotte at 4:05 P. M. Passengers, W. D. McMillan, owner and driver; H. deW. Rapalje, J. C. McEchern and W. A. Riley. Took the same route to Monroe as covered by this car on trip out. Passed Matthews at 4:45, 11.1 miles. Arrived Monroe at 6:10 P. M., 25.7 miles. Stopped here 38 minutes and took on Mr. Armfield at Monroe as guide. Left Monroe at

ELECTION RETURNS
We will display Election Bulletins
COME!
On Tuesday night, following the election in State and Nation, the Star will display by means of a stereoptticon on a large canvass across the street from its building, on Princess street, the latest bulletins of the results as received by Associated Press and by specials from its correspondents in all parts of the State. The friends of the paper and the general public are cordially invited to come down and witness the bulletins which will be flashed immediately upon the canvass the moment they are received by leased wire in our own building.

LUMBER MILLS IN BRUNSWICK

Several Large Plants in Operation in the Town Creek Section—Northwest Township Talking of the Highway.

The following items, relative to lumber mills in operation in the Town Creek section of Brunswick county, and the interest among Northwest township voters in the Charlotte-Wilmington highway, are from this week's issue of the Southport News and will be read with interest:

"The prospect is that this winter scores of timber will be manuacturued into lumber in the Town Creek section of the county by the Town Creek Railroad and Lumber Company. That industrial enterprise is making ready to handle large quantities the next few years.

"With the large mill at Town Creek as a central mill it is understood that other small mills are to be placed at other different points in that section in order to facilitate the cut.

"The Hummer mill at Little River is in operation, and was in operation during the dull months when other mills were shut down. This enterprise is drawing lots of timber from the county over its short lumber road up in the Iredell section.

"The Waccamaw Lumber Company is daily hauling car loads of timber from the Green Swamp up to Bolton, where the mill is located.

"Aside from these larger enterprises there are several small mills located in the county. J. T. West, at Leland; L Walker at Town Creek, those mills at Supply and those at Shallotte, all cut for the local demand with perhaps some shipments made for distant markets. Dr. Goodman is now erecting a new mill on Town Creek. Mr. A. J. Robbins has recently placed a new one on the east side of the Lockwoods Folly river near the mouth, and the new owners of Claendon plantation have recently erected a mill down there.

"These operations indicate that the lumbering interest is considerable in the county, and that it is growing.

"We are reminded, too, that much of all this lumber cut will be sent to other points for turning out a more finished product. It would mean thousands more to the county if our mill men could manage to finish the product here in the county and give the laborers here the earnings from that work.

"The people up in Northwest township, this county, are discussing and thinking about the preferred road for the proposed 'Dockery' highway from Charlotte to Wilmington.

"There is a fine prospect that this road will be urged and completed in the next few years, and if done, it is more than likely that it will pass through Northwest township.

"Two routes are spoken of through the township, and the sentiment is lining up either for one or the other, while a new midway course is also spoken of by the people. This is all in advance of any real proposition yet, but it is a subject in which the citizens are interested.

"Some favor the old Fayeteville road, which is perhaps the more direct, and want the other roads to lead to that from Sumerville, Phoenix and Leland. Others prefer to run the road up through Leland, Phoenix and around Summerville back to the Fayetville road at Northwest.

"In this connection it is well to remember that the first essential is the road itself, and the second question then is the location, and the latter should not take precedence over the former in consideration.

"The citizens of Northwest are much concerned in the prospect of the development, and will give encouragement to the movement."

THE COMMISSION PLAN AND HOW IT WORKS

Results Obtained From Operation in Five Typical Cities, Whose Experiences Will Prove of Value.

Apropos of the crystallization of a strong public sentiment in Wilmington for the commission plan of government, about which so much has been written of late, the following resume of results obtained from the commission plan of municipal government in five typical American cities, reproduced from the Charlotte Evening Chronicle of a late date from Mr. John J. Hamilton's book on this subject, will be read with interest and enlightenment in this city where the need of some charter reform is so manifestly apparent:

1.—In Galveston, Texas.

A board of three eminent engineers was employed and paid to devise plans for the reconstruction of the city after the flood.

The emergency following the great storm was dealt with efficiently by the city, acting independently and also jointly with the county and State.

The grade of the entire city was raised by the city with the assistance of the State; a great sea wall was constructed by the county; these improvements aggregating in cost $4,000,000.

Annual budget exceeding the city's revenue by an average of about $100,000 gave away to budgets kept strictly within the municipal revenues.

A floating debt of $204,974.54 was paid off out of the current revenues bonds to the amount of $460,000 were retired; new bond issues were restricted to permanent improvements; an agreement was reached with holders of city bonds whereby the interest was reduced from five to two and a half per cent. for a period of five years.

The city hall and the waterworks pumping station, wrecked by the flood were rebuilt.

The water system was extended and provision made for a duplicate main across the bay.

Three engine houses were built and others, damaged by the storm, were repaired.

The entire business section was repaved at a cost of $183,027.07.

Rock and shell roads costing $181,064.04 were constructed.

The drainage system was extended at a cost of $245,664.47.

Old judgments to the amount of $18,026.65, inherited from former administrations, were paid off.

City employes were paid in cash instead of in scrip, subject to heavy discounts.

City bonds quoted as low as sixty in the flood year, were speedily brought to a premium.

A modern system of bookkeeping was introduced.

Interest was collected on city balances in bonded depositories.

A plan of preparing the annual budget and strictly adhering to it was adopted.

The sanitation of the city was greatly improved.

The streets were kept cleaner and cleared of fruit stands and other obstructions.

Police regulations were more strictly enforced.

Saloons were excluded from the residence districts.

The policy evil and public gambling were abolished.

The city hall was transformed from a resort for loafers into a business office.

Political influence was eliminated in selecting heads of departments and employes; the merit system was established.

The city water service was metered.

Favoritism was done away with in all public services.

The services of men of the highest character and ability were secured for the municipality.

Public confidence in the city government was fully restored.

The city was emancipated from the long reign of strife, dissension and jealousy; harmony and general prosperity were re-established.

Notwithstanding the enormous extension of municipal activities and the increase of efficiency, a tax rate of $1.60 for city purposes, the lowest of any large city in Texas, was not increased.

2.—In Houston, Texas.

City indebtedness to the amount of $400,000 was retired.

The practice of issuing bonds to cover annual deficiencies was discontinued; expenditures were kept rigidly within the city's income.

Current city obligations were promptly met; warrants previously quoted at seventy-five and eighty, became worth par.

The city's credit was completely restored following a period when bond-holders had been threatening to sue on account of defaults.

Waterworks was purchased for $901,000, with popular approval, showing confidence in the new government; the purchase was approved in 1906 by a vote of three to one, whereas it had been rejected in 1903.

The water service and fire protection were greatly improved.

The street railways were required to bear their share of public burdens and improve the service.

Three schoolhouses were built at a cost of $106,000.

A 15-acre park was purchased for $55,000 cash.

Dangerous old bridges across the bayou in the heart of the city which the old government had refused to replace, except by bond issues, were replaced with new bridges paid for out of current revenues.

Twelve other bridges were put in repair.

The city plumbing work and supplies were obtained at 15 to 25 per cent. less cost by the adoption of business methods.

Good vitrified brick paving was substituted for inferior work.

A shipload of brick was imported from New York and the brick combination was broken.

The cost of electric lights was reduced from $80 to $70 per arc per year

The tax rate was reduced from $2 to $1.80.

Graft, sinecurism, favoritism and incompetency, which permeated every department of the old government, was done away with.

Police and sanitary regulations were strictly enforced; the fostering of vice was discontinued.

Quarreling and dissensions disappeared; harmony was restored, both in the city government and among citizens.

Business methods were adopted in all departments.

Council sessions became short, business-like and devoid of speech-making.

The confidence of citizens in the integrity of the city government was completely restored.

Growth and prosperity of the city were stimulated by improved civic conditions.

These good results were obtained simply from change of the system, members of the commission having been connected with the former government.

3.—In Leavenworth, Kansas.

Strict enforcement of law was substituted for the city's traditional policy of defiance of State prohibition laws.

Bankruptcy and financial helplessness were succeeded by a thoroughly satisfactory condition of the city's finances.

Citizens of the highest standing were induced to accept office under the new regime; the politicians being driven from power by large majorities.

A period of decreasing population and stagnation of business and building was followed by one of rapid growth in all of these respects.

In 25 years under the old form of government, the city paved 12 miles of streets. In the first 21 months under the new system, five and one-half miles were paved.

City bonds to the amount of $20,200 were paid off in two years.

The county indebtedness for which the city was responsible was paid off by the latter to the net amount of $119,750 witain two years.

Only $27,000 of the new bonds were issued against these reductions; a net reduction of the bonded indebtedness of $112,950 took place, while the new issues represented permanent improvements.

A new set of books was operated, and the city's business handled like that of "an up-to-date mercantile establishment."

All bills due from the city were paid before the tenth of each month.

Appointments were made on account of fitness, regardless of party affiliations.

Property values largely increased and the volume of real estate transfers showed unprecedented growth in the city.

New factories were built which give employment to three hundred men

All these improved conditions were brought about without increased taxation, despite a loss of $80,000 a year from illegal saloon licenses.

4.—In Des Moines, Iowa.

The city's net loss in the last year of the old government was $134,510.62; the net gain in the first year under the new charter was $48,439.10; a total saving of $182,949.65.

The tax levy for city purposes in the last year of the old charter was 38.7 mills (on twenty-five per cent. valuation established by law); the first year under the new charter it was 36.4 mills.

Public improvements to the value of $357,755.50 were made during the first year under the new system.

Contractors were held strictly to the specifications and claims for extras, which had grown into a crying abuse, were firmly rejected; the quality of all public work visibly improved.

Several car loads of inferior creosote paving blocks were rejected.

A modern bookeeping system was installed.

Municipal expenditures were held strictly within the city revenues, ending the practice of piling up yearly deficits to which almost the entire city bonded debt was due.

Numerous leaks were stopped; all of the licenses collected were turned into the treasury.

Street lights, formerly costing $75 to $95, were reduced to a uniform rate of $65 per arc per year, and the moonlight schedule abolished, insuring better service.

Incandescent lights were reduced from $24 to $17 in some cases, and the all night schedule was substituted for a moonlight schedule in others, at the same price, $17.

All public work was promptly done; complaints were given immediate attention.

The streets were kept noticeably cleaner; the alleys in business sections, never before cleaned at all, were now thoroughly cleaned.

Street signs were put up throughout the city, years of clamor for it having failed to induce the old government to make this improvement.

The wages of men with teams were increased from $3.50 to $4.50; those of day laborers from $2 to $2.25; much better service was required.

The quality of public service in all departments was noticeably bettered.

The cost of cleaning catch basins was reduced from $1.40 to $1.12.

Uniform cement walks were laid throughout the business section.

Bridge paving under the old system cost $4.74 per yard by contract; under the new system it was done by day labor for $4.09.

Culverts costing $17.61 per cubic yard under the old plan, were built for $12.63 under the new plan.

Mowing in the parks was done at 7½ per cent. of the old cost.

Work done by contract was let to the lowest bidder, without manipulation.

The "red light" district, operated under the corrupt and unlawful monthly fining system, was entirely abolished.

Bond sharks who owned the segregated red light district and oppressed the inmates of disorderly houses, were driven out of business.

Public gambling houses, previously operated under police protection, were closed.

Petty gambling devices, such as slot machines, formerly protected, were effectually prohibited.

Ordinances regulating saloons were strictly and uniformly enforced.

Friendly, but mutually self-respecting relations between the city government and public service corporations were established.

City politics were entirely divorced from State and National politics.

Private enterprise and public spirit were remarkably stimulated; over $400,000 was raised for public purposes by citizens in two years. A great Coliseum, new Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. buildings were provided, etc.

The city, formerly notorious for "divisive strife," became notably harmonious.

5.—In Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Bonds were retired and interest paid thereon amounting to a total of $61,980.

Extensive park improvements were made.

Additional park property was acquired.

A new fire station was erected; all city buildings were put in good repair.

The island in Cedar river, formerly a dumping ground, was purchased by the city and turned into a beautiful civic center.

The services of Charles Mulford Robinson, the civic improvement expert, were secured, and, following his advice, streets were extended, street signs were erected, waste paper receptacles provided, etc.

Public work of all kind was done on a large scale and well done.

The receipts from the police court increased from $75 to about $700 per month without an increase of arrests.

License taxes were impartially collected.

Milk and meat inspection laws were enforced.

Five patrolmen were added to the city police force.

Gamblers were driven from the city.

The social evil was segregated and put under severe restrictions.

Defective paving was rejected; contractors were held to the specifications.

Cash discount was taken on all city bills.

Interest was collected on city balances in banks.

The city's credit was established at the highest standard.

Complaints from citizens were given immediate attention. Civic pride was awakened.

Business methods were introduced in all departments of the city government.

The growth of the city was largely accelerated.

All these results are facts. They are matters of record. What has been done in Galveston, Houston, Leavenworth, Des Moines and Cedar Rapids, can be done in Charlotte. It is an attractive experiment. Is it not worth trying?

ENGINEERS' REPORT OF PATHFINDING TOUR

6:48 P. M. At 28.8 miles crossed steel bridge over Richardson's Creek. At 30.6 miles turned off to right from Marshville road towards Cheraw. At 38 miles crossed Lane's Creek. At 42 miles crossed South Carolina line, near Brown Creek bridge. Roads hilly and poorly graded. At 9.55 P. M. passed Ruby, S. C., crossing branch of S. A. L. R. R. At 10:25 P. M. arrived Chesterfield, S. C., and dropped guide. Intelligent grading being done on road between Chesterfield and Cheraw, some steep hills being cut down. At 72 miles crossed S. A. L. R.R., Chesterfield and Cheraw branch. At 11:36 P. M., arrived Cheraw, S. C., distance 73.1 miles from Charlotte. Stopped five minutes or directions. Crossed branch S. A. L. R. R. at 73.2 miles. At 73.7 miles, crossed steel bridge over Pee Dee rivtr, about 400 feet long. At Cheraw the coastal plane is entered and road is generally level from here to Wilmington. Some bad sand just outside of Cheraw. Crossed branch of S. A. L. at 78.8 miles. At 1:15 A. M., arrived at Bennettsville S. C., distance87.8 miles. Stopped over night here.

October 21.—Left Bennettsville at 7:45 A. M. Speedometer reading 89.4 miles on start. Crossed two railroads 90.2 miles. Good level sand clay roads from this point to Little Rock, S. C. Crossed A. C. L., Clio and Latta branch, at 98.8 miles. Crossed North and South Carolina railroad 108.5; arrived at Little Rock, S .C., at 9:08 A. M., distance 109.4 miles. From this point a detour of 10 miles was made to Dillon, S. C., and return to obtain information. Re-route via Dillon, Fair Bluff and Chadbourn, N. C., but party was advised that Lumber river swamps near Fair Bluff would be impassable on account of heavy rains.

Left Little Rock at 10:03 A. M crosed Little Pee Dee river on poor wooden bridge, 110.3 miles. One mile of deep sand in river flats subject to overflow. At 10:45 A. M. arrived at Rowland, N. C., 118.4 miles. Joined by Dr. Smith and party of Rowland in Buick car, who acted as pilots the next five miles. Left Rowland at 11:12 A. M. At 126.1 miles crosed A. C. L. railroad, Elrod branch, at Raynham, N. C. At 12:35 P. M. arrived at Lumberton, N. C., distance from Charlotte 138.1 miles. Stopped for dinner. Joined by Mr. A. M. White and party in another E. M. F. 30, who acted as pilot for the next eight miles. Left Lumberton at 2:25 P. M., crossing railroad at 138.7 and 140.2 miles. Left Whiteville road at 142.5 miles and took little used road for Bladenboro. At 143.7 miles crossed S. A. L. railroad at Allenton; crossed Pole Camp Swamp on causeway and several small bridges, emerging after about one mile. At 148.1 miles and 153.2 miles went through 12 inches of water in swamp 1,000 feet wide and arrived at Bladenboro at 3.44 P. M., distance 153.5 miles. Crossed S. A. L. at this point. As directed followed very wet and little used woods roads for about two miles. At 4:12 P. M. 158.2 miles crossed S. A. L. R. R. at Abbottsburg. At 160.8 entered good, newly built sand clay roads, extending to Clarkton At 4:26 P. M. arrived at Clarkton, distance 162.5. Met by O. L. Clark and others and took on Mr. Currie as guide. Left Clarkton at 4:39. Crossed Brown Marsh Swamp from 164.4 to 165.1 miles. Four bridges from 20 to 100 feet long. Crosed S. A. L. at 167.9 miles. Passed White Plains Church at Cross Roads at 5:22 P. M At 170.4 miles after leaving Whiteville and Whiteville road were guided into wrong road through woods and lost 37 minutes in working back. At 6:40 P. M entered Friar's Swamp, water 17-inches deep, 600 feet wide, distance at exit 174.4 miles. At 7:12 P. M. lost an hour and eight minutes on account of tire trouble. Entered Wilmington and Whiteville road at 8:25 P. M. at point north of Wananish, near Shiloh church, distance 179 miles. From this point the car followed same road to Cronly as that taken on trip out, but the corduroy stretches through swamps were found bad going on account of heavy rains. Two more stops for tire trouble added one and a half hours to delay. Crossed Livingston creek and arrived at Cronly 11:20 P. M., 194.5 miles. Five minutes stop. At 11:40 P. M. car was stalled in Rattlesnake Branch east of Cronly. Branch only about 50 feet wide but was 30 inches deep in centre of run. Hauled out by mules at 1:20 A. M. and proceeded. Crossed Hood's Creek. Crossed A. C. L. near Farmer's and at Malmo station re-crossing just at Malmo. After crossing Rice Field branch another hour was lost on acount of tire trouble. Crossed Brunswick river bridge and found some tidewater in causeway road. Reached Cape Fear river ferry at 4 A. M. Delayed 40 minutes arousing ferryman, distance 211 miles from Charlotte.

CONTAGIOUS TROUBLES

Contagious Blood Poison more thoroughly permeates the system than any other disease. Its infectious virus contaminates every corpuscle and tissue of the circulation, and for this reason its symptoms are of a varied nature. When it enters the blood it is but a short time until the mouth and throat begin to ulcerate, the skin becomes spotted, rashes and eruptions appear on the body, sores and ulcers break out, the hair falls, and frequently nails on hands and feet thicken and come off. Mineral medicines which simply shut the poison up in the system should be avoided, for when such treatment is left off the old disease will break out again, often worse than before. S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison permanently, and it does so because it thoroughly purifies the blood. S. S. S. goes into the circulation, and drives out the last trace of the destructive germs, adds richness and vigor to the circulation and allows it to nourish the diseased portions of the body back to health. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, without a particle of mineral, and its vegetable ingredients always hasten the cure by toning up the stomach and digestive members. Home Treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

NEW SOUTHERN INDUSTRIES

Projection of Many Enterprises of Very Great Magnitude Reported to Manufacturers' Record. Some Undertakings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Baltimore, Nov. 3.—A survey of the Southern industrial situation during the past week as reported in detail through the Manufacturers' Record shows the organization or projection of many enterprises of very great magnitude, as well as a fair degree of activity in smaller enterprises of widely diversified character.

In the Eastern Kentucky coking coal fields deals and rumors of deals, actual contracts for railroad extension and rumors of additional railroad building activities, all of which will, if carried out, involve many millions of dollars, are rife. One deal which has doubtless been consummated, involves the purchase of 100,000 acres of coal land with a view to very large coking-coal operations, experts claiming that the Elkhorn field will make a superior coke to Connellsville, the present standard of Pennsylvania. Another deal in the same territory will probably result in the purchase of 95,000 acres by Eastern coal operators likewise with large development operations in view. The Clinchfield Coal Corporation, Spartanburg and New York, which owns about 250,000 acres in southwest Virginia, is planning for still further enlargement of its coal output, and has let contracts to build power plant and sub-station at Hurricane, W. Va., and three other sub-stations to generate and distribute electricity for its various mines; electrical machinery contracts have been awarded, boiler and other machinery contracts will soon be awarded, and plans for buildings are being prepared; cost of these plants, $200,000.

Among other enterprises reported in the Manufacturers Record for the week may be named the following:

Stearns Coal & Lumber Co., Stearns, Ky., has completed organization with a capital stock of $1,000,000, being a consolidation of the Stearns Lumber Co., the Stearns Coal Co., and the Kentucky & Tennessee Railroad Co.; properties include 113,000 acres of coal and timber lands, the mines having a daily output of about 1,200 tons of coal and the mills having a 24-hour capacity of 150,000 feet of lumber.

Camden Coal & Clay Co., Lester, Ark., was incorporated to mine coal and clay and manufacture clay products; capital stock $240,000; offices at Hot Springs, Ark.

Indian Refining Co., Cincinnati, is understood to be planning the erection of a large oil refiner at Shreveport, La., but has made no authoritative announcement regarding this plant.

Charter Oak Stove & Range Co., St. Louis, awarded contract for erection of mill and fireproof cnstruction buildings (covering eight acres) costing $200,000 and will install machinery costing $150,000 for a daily capacity of 250 ranges and furnaces.

Hall & Legan Lumber Co, Morton, Miss., was incorporated with $200,000 capital stock.

Florida Homeseekers Corporation, Jacksonville, Fla., was incorporated with $250,000 capital stock to develop by colonization 15,000 acres of land recently purchased and 40,000 acres to be purchased.

Rugby Estates Land Co., Memphis, Tenn., is being organized to deevlop 600 acres of land as a residential suburb, an ultimate expenditure of $250,000 being proposed for site and improvements.

Jefferson CottoYn Oil Co., Jefferson, S. C., was organized to establish a $25,000 cotton oil mill.

Atlantic & Pacific Transport Co., New Orleans, will be incorporated with $15,000,000 capital stock to establish a steamship line between New York, Seattle and Panama, with weekly sailings from New York, San Francisco and New Orleans.

Frederick City Abattoir Co., Frederick, Md., awarded contract for construction of its proposed abattoir, the cost of which will be $65,000.

Louisville & Nashville Railroad began the construction of its proposed shops at Boyles near Birmingham; plant will include ten buildings of reinforced concrete and steel; estimated cost $654,000.

Washington Woolen Mills Co., Fredericksburg, Va., awarded contract for erection of a 50x120 foot two-story building in which will be installed machinery for a daily capacity of 600 pairs of trousers.

Standard Glass Block Co., Frankfort, Ky., was incorporated with a capital stock of $200,000; plans the manufacture of glass blocks.

Washington, Nov. 3.—A delegation from Richmond, Va., headed by James Keith, called on President Taft today and urged the appointment of Henry W. Anderson, a lawyer of Richmond, to the new court of commerce. The President took the matter under consideration.

STATE NORMAL & INDUSTRIAL

Greeting to Alumnae of State in Reference to Founders' Day—Observance on October 12th. Letters and Telegrams.

To the Alumnae of the State Normal and Industrial College That Are Scattered Abroad, Greetings!

Founder's Day has come and gone, but the memory of it will not soon pass away.

The morning of October 12th dawned bright and beautiful and all day the weather was perfect. Early in the morning Dr. McIver's grave was decorated with beautiful flowers which had been carried to the cemetery by committees of the faculty and the several college classes.

At 11 o'clock the faculty and students, with a large number of alumnae and friends, gathered in the College Chapel to do honor to the memory of our great founder. After an appropriate introduction of music and prayer, followed hearty fraternal greetings to our colege from the University and the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts—delivered by Prof. M. C. S. Noble and Prof. W. A. Withers, respectively. Then Mr. Josephus Daniels made a great speech, his theme being Dr. McIver's ideal of womanhood and his unselfish, tireless zeal in uplifting the women of North Carolina. This portrait of our beloved friend and hero was a simple, faithful representation by one man of another whom he had known intimately, loved sincerely, and admired wholly; and Dr. McIver's "girls" recognized with love and sympathy every line in the picture.

President Foust read 59 letters and telegrams in which scattered alumnae sent greetings of love and loyalty to the college. In the closing song, "Carolina," the hearty singing of the audience testified that everyone present felt the inspiration of the hour.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon our vice president, Mrs. Minnie McIver Brown, opened the meeting of our State Alumnae Association. At her request, Dr. Foust spoke a few words. The alumnae were delighted with his hearty welcome and by the simple manner in which he explained a few of the immediate needs of the college. It was gratifying to learn that there is now in the student body a smaller proportion of "new" students than ever before. This shows that the college is inspiring her matriculates to move steadily forward from the Freshman to the Senior Class. It was appalling to hear that the number of young women who had failed to gain admission to the dormitories was larger than the number of "new" students admitted.

The visiting alumnae heard with delight of the extension work which Miss Anna Michaux is beginning in the rural schools of Forsyth county; of the bulletins soon to be issued by the various departments of the college; of the Summer session which the college contempates inaugurating, etc. In a free discussion of these matters, the members of the Association seemed eager to help in the wise distribution of the bulletins on Domestic Science, Vocal Music in the Public Schools, etc., and to assist in spreading information about the serious work of the Summer School. In this school will be offered not only the regular college work, but courses in Pedagogy, Manual Arts, etc., for teachers who can not come here during the Winter or late Spring, and a strong course in Domestic Science for any women in the State who desire it.

The rollcall of alumnae by counties was taken, each delegate renewing her allegiance to that "ipse dixit:" Inasmuch as our Alma Mater is the servant of the State, her worthy daughters must be loyal servants to the State.

The Association unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

"On this day, when visitors and alumnae join with the students and the faculty of our college in honoring the name of Dr. Charles D. McIver, who so magnanimously gave his life to the uplift of the womanhood of our State, and who said, 'No State which will once educate its mothers need have any fear about future illiteracy', it seems especially appropriate that we, the Alumnae of the State Normal College, who feel an untold debt to our Alma Mater and who wish in any and every way to help her blot out the illiteracy of our State, should form the following resoutions:

"First. That we shall use every opportunity to make the State feel the needs of our college and to secure from the State a liberal maintenance for our Alma Mater which has, every year so far, been forced to close her doors against women who, without the help of the State, must go without an education.

"Second. That we, by our daily lives and work, shall endeavor to emulate and to infuse into the lives of others that spirit of service, of self-sacrifice, which was so beautifully taught and practiced by our founder Dr. McIver, whose message for us is 'Live more abundantly through more abundant service, striving hopefully for the larger things of life.'

"Third. That we Alumnae who are present at this meeting shall ask the county associations of alumnae throughout the State to join with us in striving to live lives worthy of our founder, and to bring about the day when, with proper aid from the State, every woman may have the opportunity of an education."

Thus ended a beautiful day. But 8:30 o'clock found us in the Chapel again. Some alumni of the University of North Carolina had had painted for our colege a handsome protrait of Mrs. Cornelia Phillips Spencer. As Dr. Venable, president of the University, after a few well chosen words, unveiled the portrait, the entire audience rose in respectful silence. When they were again seated, our own Mr. Joyner gracefully accepted the picture.

Then Dr. Hannis Taylor, who in his boyhood had been a pupil of Mrs. Spencer and who, after an absence of 40 years, had returned to his native State to do his first teacher honor, gave us his recollections of Mrs. Spencer and held her up as a heroic model, whom womanly women everywhere would fain resemble. At the close of his address, the University alumni of Guilford county, gave a banquet in our dining hall. Among their guests were prominent representatives of church and State, from such institutions as the Greensboro Female College, Davidson College, Emery and Henry, Wofford, Trinity, the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, the University of Michigan, Johns Hopkins, Princeton, London and Berlin. It was inspiring to us to be guests among so "many men of many minds," differing in political and religious creeds, but one in their determination to be true to North Carolina and to try to give all her sons and daughters a chance at the only true education. "That which enables one to do what he knows he ought to do, at the time he ought to do it, regardless of the consequences."

As some of "his girls" walked home under the star-lit sky, they seemed to hear Dr. McIver whisper, in the words of one he loved: "This do in remembrance of me." May every one of our alumnae be faithful to her great commission.

NO BOODLE FOR MEARES.

Morehead Doles Out Money in Four Congressional Districts.

(News and Observer.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 4.—It seems that the Democratic candidates, who are running as Republicans for Congress in this campaign, will have to finance their own campaigns save and excepting McNinch, who though able to run his own campaign, as was Morehead, the new convert two years ago, by the grace of Morehead a fellow Charlottt man, a fellow manufacturer, and a fellow Democrat running by Republican grace for Congress before he ever voted a Republican ticket or attended a Republican convention. The means of knowing this, was in consequence of Tom Pence's letter from Washington, published in this morning's News and Observer, in which he stated that on Morehead's recent visit to National Congressional headquarters, he succeeded in getting some "boodle" for North Carolina Congressional use.

The information is given, that this Congressional "boodle" is entirely separate and distinct from other funds raised from Federal officials, such as revenue offictrs, postmasters, rural mail carriers, etc., whiskey folks, bond syndicates, etc., and is only apportioned for districts, where there is the slightest hope for electing the Congrtssman.

There was a man here last night from Iredell Meares' district, who "was wise" to this "Congressional boodle", ahead of the ever alert Pence for he was after the part for his candidate. But he is said to have "went away sorrowful," if not angry, because there was none for him. The explanation that only four candidates were allowed a special fund, had to satisfy, but did not appease him. The lucky numbers were the old line Republicans, Grant and Cowles, of the eighth and tenth districts, the near Republican and Morehead's protege, and census supervisor victor over the Durham professor, Blair of the fifth district, and the "never voted a Republican ticket brother recruit, Samuel McNinch, of the seventh district."

To head off any chance of all the other Congressional candidates, who might think Morehead was using partiality, the Congressional committee treasurer wrote four checks himself, each payable to Blair, McNinch, Grant and Cowles themselves, so that there could be no question about the apportionment and no kick against Morehead. And these checks were for only five hundred dollars each. Still that amount would have been balm to Cooley, Parker, King, Meares, George Butler and the other late Democrat, who is running for Congress against Claude Kitchin.

It does seem hard that these men who sorely need it, should be denied this special perquisite, when rich Democrats like Blair and McNinch, in equally hopeless districts, should get it.

Object lessons are common these days. They are also valuable. The best one we have seen recently in this dished up by the Wilmington Star—"It is related that a minister, endeavoring in an adroit way to ascertain from a small boy whether his father 'asked the blessing', said to the youngster: 'What is it your father says before you all start to eat?' Not intending to give his father away or to emphasize the high cost of living, the boy innocently replied: 'Well, pa always starts in by saying, 'you kids will have to eat less, for it costs twice as much to feed you as it used to'." Vice President Sherman boasts that the Republican party is responsible for high prices, and, as consumers, the kids should remind dad to vote against the party that takes bread out of their mouths." The proof of the pudding is in the eating, but in these days it is expensive to get meat and bread, much less pudding.—Greensboro Record.

JOINT DEBATE IN DUPLIN.

Dr. Carr Handles ex-Congressman Fowler in Fine Shape.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chinquepin, Duplin County, Nov. 4.—Dr. R. L. Carr, candidate for the Legislature, met ex-Congressman John E. Fowler, of Clinton, in joint debate here today. Mr. Fowler refused to endorse the record of the Republican party during the sixties. He said Butler and bonds were not an issue and he did not make any special effort to defend Senator Butler, stating that Butler had money and could fee him if Butler wanted him to defend him in the bond collection scheme. He made an appeal to the farmers, declaring that the high prices of their produce was due to the protective tariff.

Dr. Carr, in a strong speech, showed that prices for farm products were governed by supply and demand, producing figures on cotton and showing from the Republican campaign book that the tariff for the last 20 years had not affected farm products. Dr. Carr maintained and proved that the Payne-Aldrich law is for the protection of the monopolists who make high prices for consumers. He proved by Senator Aldrich's remarks that the National government is extravagant to the extent of $20 for every voter annually. He declared that the Republican party had never made any special appropriation for the Confederate soldier and pointed with pride to the record of the Democratic party in the promotion of education, for its care of the Confederate soldier and the State's unfortunates. He demonstrated from the Republican campaign book that our suffrage amendment would be in danger under Republican control and that the Republicans pointed with pride to their vote in Congress against the Jim Crow car. The doctor said he asked for a division of time with Senator Butler at Rose Hill two years ago but the Senator declined. Duplin will give 800 majority for Democracy.

ROBESON COTTON CROP.

Mr. E. W. Stone Thinks It Badly Damaged by Frosts.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

McDonald, N. C., Nov. 5.—On account of the cold wave and heavy frost a few days ago, the cotton crop in Robeson county is badly damaged. At first it was thought that the top crop had reached a stage of maturity that the frost would not hurt it, but later developments show that the bolls are softening, which indicates that they will not open. While it is a fact that frost appeared unusually late, we must take into consideration that the crop was also unusually late, and in the bottom lands a large proportion of the bolls were late and taking the crop as a whole, it will amount to thousands of dollars. Generally, the picking in this section is well on the way and farmers have turned it loose as fast as ginned. Robeson is one of the six greatest cotton producing counties of the world, raising 61,000 bales last year. I think if Robeson comes across with 40,000 bales this time, it will be the outside. It would be information to farmers if other counties would give out some information as to the situation with them. There is no one in better position to forecast the cotton crop than the man behind the plow.

E. W. STONE.

It has been apparent that from the first the only hope of Republicans is in boodle. It is announced now that Morehead, who has been on a money hunt in New York, has got a pile. In his Raleigh speech Governor Aycock said that soon we would see Republicans turning to the South to get some Congressmen—not because they love us more, but because, seeing the loss of many districts in the North and West, they hope to buy up a few Congressmen in the South to keep in control at Washington. That prediction has been verified, and, just on the eve of the election, Morehead returns from the North with bodle galore to spend in the districts he deems close.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Congressman H. L. Godwin, of Dunn, writes: "The District is in fine shape and I hope New Hanover will take her stand along with the other counties in the district and not fall off in her usual good Democratic majorities." We have no fear of New Hanover. "A burnt child dreads the fire" and memories of 1898 should make every Democrat turn out and vote for Godwin and every candidate on the ticket. Cut out the friendship vote.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Snow, the first of the season, fell here tonight. The fall was slight and the flakes were mingled wit ha cold rain that began at nightfall.

Rock Springs, Texas., Nov. 3.—Antonio Rodriguez, the Mexican, who confessed this afternoon that he murdered Mrs. Lem Henderson yesterday afternoon, was burned at the stake by a mob late tonight.

A Record To Be Proud Of.

WE have the best equipped sanitarium in the United States for the treatment of those diseases which we cure. A strong statement perhaps—but one which I know a little investigation will substantiate. Naturally the people of the South were the first to appreciate what we are doing here at the Keeley Institute at Greensboro. I want to tell you that you can hardly find a town of two thousand inhabitants in North Carolina, South Carolina or Virginia that hasn't one or more cured patients to testify to our equipment, our methods and the efficiency of our cure. And our reputation isn't confined to the Southern States alone either.

The 6500 patients that we have cured in the past eighteen years have come from eighteen different states—North, East and West as well as South. Also Canada and Cuba.

The natural beauty of the spot and the thoroughly modern comforts of our Institute, give a patient the most cheerful surroundings in which to take the treatment and recuperate. In fact, those who have made the comparison say we have the most homelike place in the world for the man to go who is depressed from the use of drugs and whiskey.

If you are interested in the Keeley Cure in any way—for yourself or anybody else—just write me personally. I will write you in detail about our cure, and send you the voluntary testimony of some of our patients. Remember that in any case your letters will be treated with the utmost confidence.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.
I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or Whitish discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors, or Growths; also pains in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney, and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address

Now Is the Time to Advertise in The Morning Star

At The Theatres.

"Graustark," or "A Love Behind a Throne," to be presented at the Academy Tuesday night is a dramatization of Geo. Barr McCutcheon's most popular and best selling novel. Mr. McCutcheon is also the author of "Brewster's Millions," but it is the concensus of opinion that "Graustark" possesses far greater dramatic possibilities and is a much more interesting play.

As the sale of the novel has exceeded five hundred thousand copies, which is far in excess of any other similar story published in a decade, it is safe to presume that the majority of theatre patrons are familiar with the story, but for the benefit of those who have not read the book, a brief resume of the story may prove of interest.

Grenfall Lorry, a handsome young American, belongs to that class which the Socialists are fond of describing as the "idle rich." On a train at Denver he becomes interested in a young girl who is touring America with an uncle and aunt. She is evidently a foreigner as she is different from any girl of his acquaintance and has the bearing and manner of an aristocrat. He tries to make her acquaintance, but unsuccessfully as she meets every attempt with studied indifference. Before the journey ends he manages to be of great assistance to her, and is invited to join her party at dinner. There he is chagrined to learn from the lips of his divinity that her name is Guggenslocker.

He is speechless. "An angel with a name like that!" he thinks, and wonders haw such a lovely girl could possibly be the daughter of some German sausage maker. But she tells him she lives in Edelweiss, the capital of Graustark, and banteringly invites him to pay her a visit. To her surprise and confusion he accepts and swears to meet her in Edelweiss.

He has never heard of Graustark, but starts out to find it, accompanied by his artist friend, Harry Anguish. It is a small principality in eastern Europe, and when they finally arrive, they are dismayed to learn that no one knows the Guggenslockers. In despair they are about to abandon the search and return, when by chance they overhear a plot to abduct the reigning Princess. Thirsting for adventure, they decide to remain and frustrate the plans of the abductors.

They invade the castle at midnight and finally reach the Princess' boudoir in time to save her. But Lorry's enthusiasm is turned to dismay when he recognizes the occupant of the room. It is his mysterious Miss Guggenslocker—Yetive, Princess of Graustark.

He learns later that she is betrothed to a neighboring Prince, whom she must marry to save her country from financial ruin. This, however does not deter the intrepid American from making desperate, if seemingly hopeless love. Her fiance, Prince Lorenz, arrives in a maudlin state of intoxication. For speaking slightingly of the Princess the American knocks him down and is immediately challenged to fight a duel, but another Prince, who had planned the abduction, assassinates Prince Lorenz and fastens suspicion on Lorry. He is accused and imprisoned, but his escape is planned and executed by the Princess. After numerous hairbreadth escapes and thrilling situations, love conquers the traditions of centuries, and eYtive's ministers, rather than lose her as their ruler, consent to let her wed the American.

The locale of the story lends itself readily to a picturesque scenic investure and gorgeous costuming.

The producers have spared no expense in this respect, and the production is said to be one of the most extravagant ever given a romantic play.

"Graustark" will undoubtedly prove a dramatic treat.

Shall Women Vote?

Constipated all His Life Now Cured—Trial Free

One of the most harrassing of troubles, though fortunately not fatal, is constipation, and millions of people suffer with it from infancy to old age. Its cause may be traced to any one of a dozen different circumstances of diet, environment and even birth.

Millions are practically born with constipation. Had they used intelligent methods at the beginning perhaps they would have found relief, but they had the usual misfortune of bad advice. They tried dieting, stewed fruits, then laxative waters, then pills and various other cathartics, and so in the end made matters worse. But there is still hope, even for the seemingly hopeless.

Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It has been on the market for many years and is as staple in the households of those who know its value as salt and sugar. It is a liquid laxative-tonic that you can buy of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size. But if you prefer to learn its value personally before buying, then send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly send you a free sample.

It is without doubt the best laxative for constipation that you can find, and in every way the best remedy for that and headaches due to constipation, indigestion or dyspepsia, heartburn, drowsiness after eating, gas on the stomach, billousness and similar troubles. It is a mild, gentle remedy free from griping and bad taste. Children take to it readily. It is a standby in the homes of Mr. George W. Zimmerman, of 1617 N. 6th St., Harrisburg, Pa., Robert Atkinson, Sr., of Cuba, Ill., and thousands of others.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

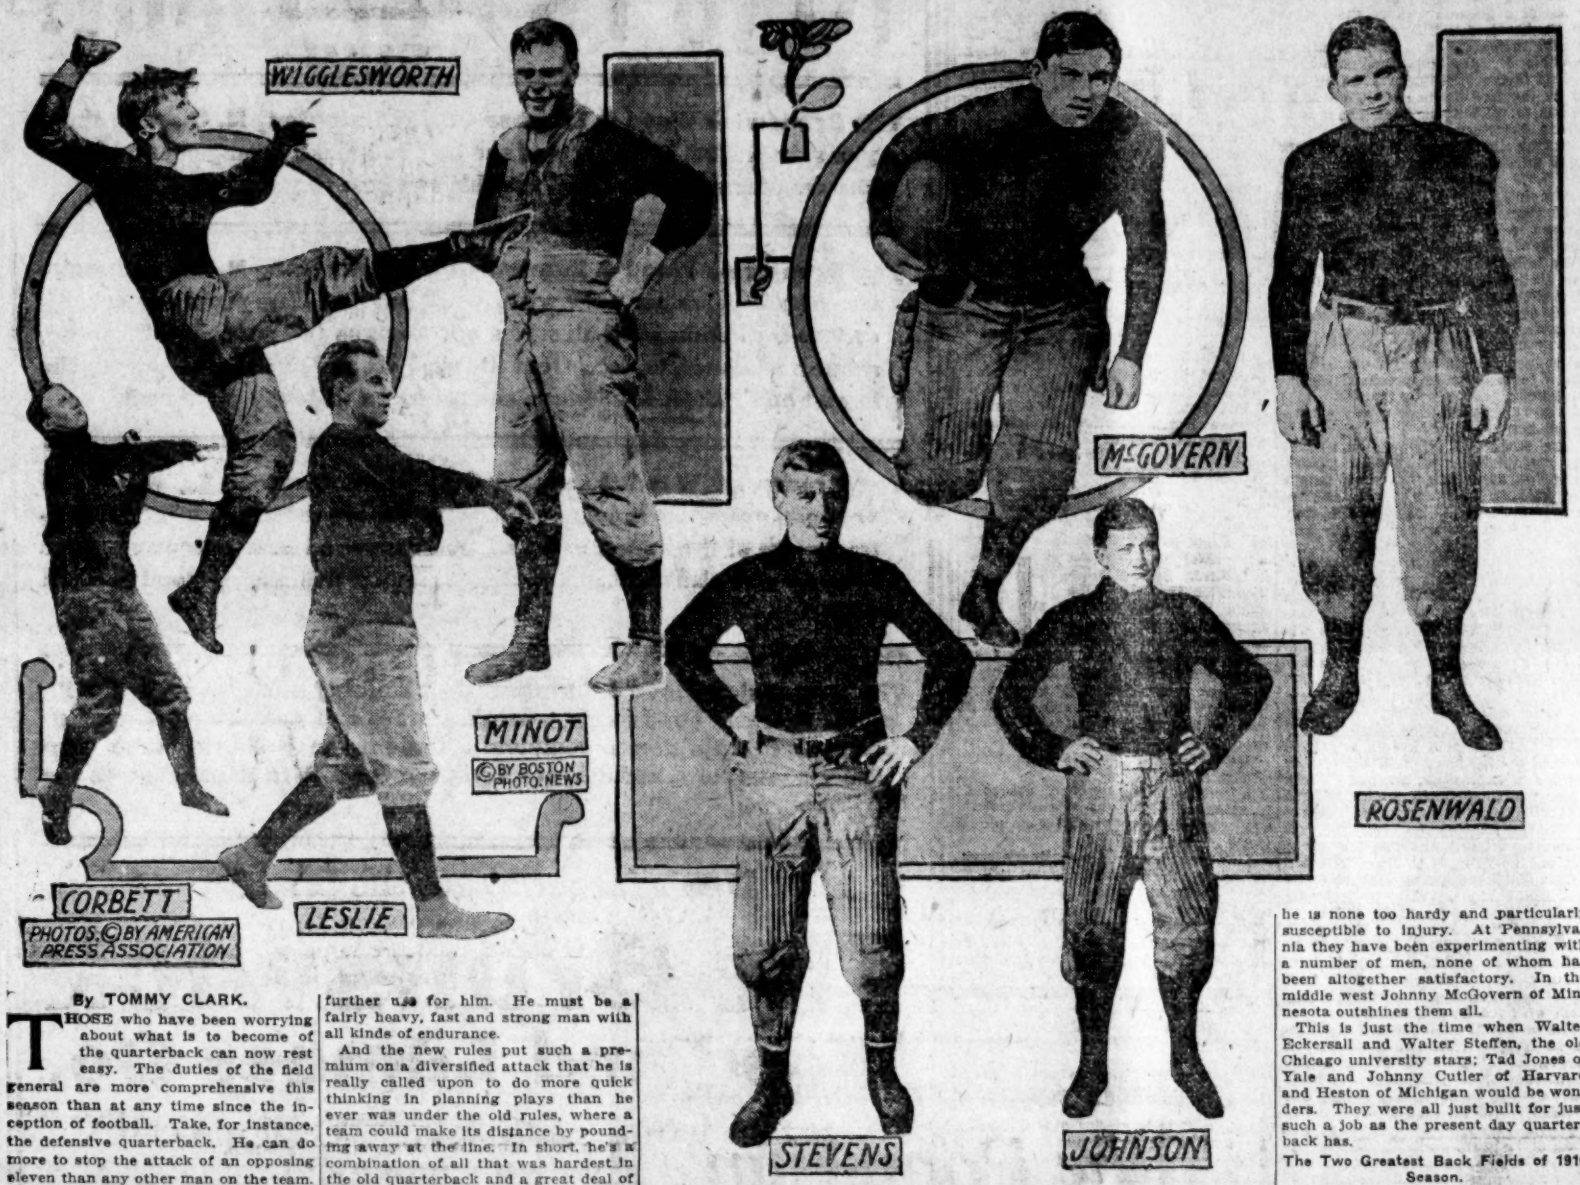
QUARTERBACK'S DUTIES ARE INCREASED UNDER NEW RULES



By TOMMY CLARK.

THOSE who have been worrying about what is to become of the quarterback can now rest easy. The duties of the field general are more comprehensive this season than at any time since the inception of football. Take, for instance, the defensive quarterback. He can do more to stop the attack of an opposing eleven than any other man on the team. Under the old rules the defensive quarterback could play comparatively close upon the line without fear of being tricked into a play. This year he has to drop back much farther. Quick thrusts, outside tackle and forward passes directly over the line of scrimmage are some of the plays he must confound.

Quarterback Has Plenty to Do.

The duties of the quarterback are so many and so arduous that the light man of the Pishon type is a thing of the past. The big teams, the elevens that fight for championships, have no further use for him. He must be a fairly heavy, fast and strong man with all kinds of endurance.

And the new rules put such a premium on a diversified attack that he is really called upon to do more quick thinking in planning plays than he ever was under the old rules, where a team could make its distance by pounding away at the line. In short, he's a combination of all that was hardest in the old quarterback and a great deal of the old fullback.

The defensive quarterback is in a position to know just where plays will be sent when the opposing eleven is about to score. He should know where the plays were sent which gained most ground farther out in the field, for it is an assured fact that a good quarterback will use some of these to place the oval across the line. If the defensive quarter is wise enough he will concentrate his defense about these points instead of allowing it to be scattered about in positions where it is absolutely useless to a team.

When an offensive eleven shifts a player from one side of the line to the other the defensive quarter is the one who orders his line to shift a position, and the sooner this order is given the better chance the defensive team has of checking the attack. The secret of such an attack is to start the play the moment the shifted player gets into position, as the object of the play is to hit the spot before the defense is set to meet the attack.

If the defensive quarter is an observing player it will be possible for him to ascertain an opponent's attack by watching the opposing backs closely. It only is natural for a halfback to look in the direction of the play if his signal is called, or he may even turn his feet or head in the direction of the play. In this way the defensive quarter can direct the defense accordingly.

With deception one of the secrets of a team's gridiron success, the defensive quarter now must be on the alert for everything. He should play at least five yards back of the line of scrimmage, and he should be constantly informing his teammates of the possibilities of the attack. On every formation he must be sure to scan the side lines to see if a player is out there to receive a forward pass. He never should fail to see that the opposing team does not take any advantage of the rules by not having seven men on the line of scrimmage, and he must be certain to see that on every forward pass the proper player has caught the oval.

In many other ways he can be of the greatest assistance to a team on the defense, but a player in his position should know the game thoroughly and possess those two great football qualifications, experience and intuition.

Few Good Ones This Season.

There are so few really good quarterbacks this year that it will not be much of a job from present indications to dig one up for the All America team next fall. Howe of Yale is rated a good man, but he has been out of it for some time on account of injuries. Ballou of Princeton is a good runner, a hard, sure tackler, has a good eye for distance and handles punts cleanly. He's a shifty dodger and a rattling good kicker.

At Cambridge they have Wigglesworth, whose only fault has been that he is none too hardy and particularly susceptible to injury. At Pennsylvania they have been experimenting with a number of men, none of whom has been altogether satisfactory. In the middle west Johnny McGovern of Minnesota outshines them all.

This is just the time when Walter Eckersall and Walter Steffen, the old Chicago university stars; Tad Jones of Yale and Johnny Cutler of Harvard and Heston of Michigan would be wonders. They were all just built for just such a job as the present day quarterback has.

The Two Greatest Back Fields of 1910 Season.

Since the season opened all the leading coaches have been doing their level best to develope a great array of men to shoulder heavy back field responsibilities that the new rules impose under the new code. Speed is necessary in the back field on account of the unlimited use of the forward pass and the rule which permits the man first receiving the ball from the snapper back to advance it at once. In the "reformed" rules which were in effect from 1906 to this season the speedy man became more of a star than ever before in the history of the game, while under the further improved code this will be even more of a requisite.

Aside from speed, the runner will have to be stronger than before, and so will be forced to take on weight. The days of the featherweight back and end are over, for under the rule prohibiting assistance to the runner the man with the ball will be forced to "go it alone."

Harvard and Minnesota have the two greatest back fields of the season. At the start Coach Haughton was splendidly equipped with veterans, and as the season lengthened the men improved until now the Crimson eleven has the most powerful in the east. Minot, Wigglesworth, O'Flaherty, Corbett, Frothingham and Leslie compare favorably with any Harvard back field that ever appeared on the gridiron.

In the west Minnesota has a wonderful back field. Its speed, precision and team work in many cases this season were superb. They have a heavy line and a comparatively light speedy back field. The combination seems to give them an attacking power that is sweeping everything before it. The stars of the back field are Captain Johnson, fullback; Rosenwald, left halfback; Stevens, right halfback, and McGovern, quarterback.

HARVARD AND MINNESOTA BACK FIELDS TWO GREATEST OF THE 1910 SEASON

TWO CENTS FOR A MINOR LEAGUE PLAYER.

How John Somerlott Managed to Obtain His Release From Fort Wayne.

Whether John Somerlott, who was purchased from the Terre Haute club of the Central league by Jimmy McAleer for a try at the first base job with Washington, makes good in the majors or not he will bear the rather unique distinction of having purchased his own release during his minor league career for 2 cents, which represented his entire capital and surplus at the time he negotiated the deal.

In 1905 Somerlott signed as an infielder with a club that represented Fort Wayne in a league known as the Interstate.

Salary day in Fort Wayne was an event. It rolled around regularly, but there was seldom money enough in the treasury to pay the players, and few of them ever collected their whole salaries, and the majority of them got only that part of it that they could squeeze out of the management at the rate of $1 at a time.

Jack Hardy, until recently one of the catchers on the Washington team, was manager of the Fort Wayne club, and he had a worthless court judgment to represent about $200 due him when the blow off came. He didn't like Somerlott, and Somerlott didn't just exactly hanker after his manager, and the friction grew as money became scarce.

Most of the players roomed at a cheap hotel and ate when they had the price, and one day after the team had played a good game to empty stands Somerlott came down out of his room thoroughly disgusted with baseball as it was played and paid for in the Interstate.

"Tell you what I'll do, Jack," he said to the manager. "I'll give you every cent I've got for my release."

"You're on," was the reply.

He searched his clothing and allowed the manager to do the same, and the total output was two pennies. He handed the cash to Hardy and got his release. This is a true story.

When Somerlott makes good in the majors, and he will some day, he can thank his everlasting tenacity for it. He is generally supposed to be a Michigan boy, because he has played so much baseball in that state. But his home is at Angola, Ind., and before he got into the Central league he played with a number of independent clubs in that state and for several seasons in the Southern Michigan league, where he learned the difference between independent ball and the professional kind.

OLYMPIC GAMES EVENTS.

English A. A. A. Shaping Program For Big Meet of 1912.

The general committee of the English Amateur Athletic association held a meeting recently, and among other business the program of the Olympic games for 1912 came up for discussion. From what transpired it is evident that the Englishmen are having nearly their own way in shaping the list of contests, although the ambidextrous conditions with regard to the javelin, discus and shot have been included. The hammer will not be thrown according to the ambidextrous rule. In the original draft of the program the standing high and standing broad jumps were not included, but they are in the new plan of the program drawn up by the Englishmen.

Some of the track events seen on the London program two years ago have been omitted and some new ones put on instead. Those left off are the 200 meters flat and the 400 meters hurdles, and a new one is a five mile cross country race. The discus will be thrown three ways—that is, free style with one hand and the free style with the right and left hands and from the pedestal "as at Athens" one way. The javelin will be thrown two ways—that is, with one hand and with the right and left hands, but in both these contests the javelin will have to be grasped in the middle. There will be two all around contests. One will be the same as at Athens in 1906 and made up of five events, and the other one will include ten events. In the program as it now stands the events are as follows:

One hundred meters flat, 400 meters flat, 800 meters flat, 1,500 meters flat, 5,000 meters flat, 10,000 meters flat, Marathon race (40,000 meters), hundle race (110 meters), 10,000 meters walk, five miles (about) cross country race.

Team Races.—Relay race, 1,600 meters (teams of four, each to run 400 meters); relay race, 3,000 meters (five to run, three to count).

Jumping.—Standing high jump, standing broad jump, running high jump, running broad jump, hop, step and jump, pole jump.

Throwing and Putting.—Discus (free style), best hand; discus (free style), right and left hand; discus (as at Athens); javelin (with the javelin held in the middle, Swedish way of holding it), best hand; javelin (with the javelin held in the middle, Swedish way of holding it), right and left hand; putting the weight, best hand; putting the weight, right and left hand; throwing the hammer; tug of war.

Pentathlon, comprising in following order: Broad jump, discus (free style), running (200 meters), javelin (best hand), running (1,500 meters), points to score according to place in each event; lowest points to win.

Decathlon, comprising in following order, divided on two days: First day, running (100 meters), broad jump, putting the weight (best hand), high jump, running (400 meters); second day, hurdle race (100 meters), discus (best hand), pole jump, javelin (best hand), running (1,500 meters)

MAY HANDLE KAISER'S STABLE

McCormick, American Trainer, Likely to Take Charge.

James H. McCormick, the American trainer of race horses, who has just completed a successful season abroad, is slated to become the head of the Graditz stables, owned by the German government and commonly known as the kaiser's stable. Negotiations for McCormick's services next season have been opened recently by those in charge of the Graditz stables.

Murphy Signs Five Year Contract.

Mike Murphy, trainer of athletes, has signed a contract for five more years in connection with the University of Pennsylvania. During the years he has been at Pennsylvania his teams have won the intercollegiate championship six times.

"Lajoie the Greatest Batter."—Cobb.
"Cobb's Equal Cannot Be Found."—Lajoie.

Ty Cobb, the champion batter of the country, and Larry Lajoie, the runner-up, are now throwing bouquets at each other. Cobb won the automobile offered to the man who had the highest batting average from Lajoie by one-thousandth of a point. The race was so close that the automobile firm presented Lajoie with exactly the same kind of a car as Cobb's. This soothed matters, and now Cobb says Lajoie is the most wonderful batter of recent years, while Lajoie says Cobb is the greatest ever. Below are a few choice things handed out by the pair:

"A wonderful eyesight and a wonderful physique are principally responsible for Lajoie's success as a batsman," says Ty Cobb.

"Today you see in Lajoie one of the few remaining members of the old school—the school of sluggers. They have been passing fast, giving way to a new school that depends on a 'chop' instead of slugging.

"I do not mean this as a discredit to Larry. He deserves the more credit for it. He stands today as one of the greatest batsmen the game has produced, running up a high average against the new school, slugging the ball while they are chopping it.

"The pitching today is far different from what it used to be, but Larry is still able to wage war against modern pitching with old fashioned batting methods. And there is no one coming out of the new school who looks to be his equal."

"Cobb is a natural hitter," retaliates Lajoie.

"Cobb has the natural gift of meeting a ball. Hitters are like poets—you can't make them. Cobb hit from the start of his career. I'll admit I also hit them right off the reel. It came easy to me.

"Then Cobb has good eyesight. No matter what you say to the contrary, a man with poor eyesight can't be a good hitter. You have to see a ball before you can meet it.

"He also has speed. He gets many hits because of his speed, beating out grounders. He relies on this speed to a certain extent. If he would be slower he would probably still bat at a high figure, for he would hit them out more.

"Another thing—he outguesses pitchers. He thinks quickly, and he moves fast. I don't think he tries to place the ball. I know I don't. He just meets them. It's like the old fellow who once told me, 'Just go on and do the best you can.'"

Savage's Powerful Harness Racing Stable

M. W. Savage of Minneapolis, at present conspicuous as the man who is running a corner in two minute pacers, is unique in the history of the harness horse racing game. He enjoys the distinction of paying more "long prices" for famous horses than any other two men, and he has not yet bought a "gold brick."

When the Minneapolis man bought Dan Patch for $60,000 his friends shook their heads, and it was whispered that "another good church member had gone crazy over fast horses." In fact, it is thought the men who sold Dan were not entirely sure but that they had "unloaded" something.

At the time of the purchase Dan Patch had a record of 1:59½. He showed improvement the first year of the new ownership, and his successive reductions of world's records until he placed the harness horse mark for the mile at 1:55 are well known in turf history. Besides, the "Black Whirlwind" paid for himself the first two years and since that time has earned many times that amount. An offer of $100,000 has been refused for the horse, and Mr. Savage will not sell him for any price.

Minor Heir came next. His meteoric career of 1908 made him the most talked of harness horse in the world, next to Dan Patch. Mr. Savage bought him for $40,000. He then had a record of 1:59½, and many thought he had reached the limit of his speed. After a careful wintering the great son of Heir at Law showed improvement. In 1909 he reduced his record to 1:59¼, covering the quarters as follows: 0:29, 0:30, 0:30 and 0:30¼. He was the pace a mile under two minutes last year.

This year his performances have put him in a class by himself. He has not only reduced the world's unpaced mile record to 1:58½, thus going a faster mile in the open than any other horse ever went, but he has lowered the world's record four times and has won three races the time of which averages better than two minutes.

George Gano was the next star added to the Savage stable. He was the champion money winner of 1909. He had a mark of 2:03¾ when Mr. Savage paid $30,000 for him last winter. Although he has been performing under the Savage banner but two months he has already lowered his record one second and a half and was separately timed in a race in 2:00.

Hedgewood Boy is no exception. Mr. Savage took possession of the famous Chitwood stallion and his full sister, Lady Maud C., in February. Already Hedgewood Boy has lowered his record from 2:02¼ to 2:01, and Lady Maud C. has won the world's championship for mares over a half mile track.

His Other Champions.

Mr. Savage has also owned and still owns other champions. Online, Arion, Buttonwood, Roy Wilkes and Directum have all been profitable investments for Mr. Savage. Cresceus is the only horse that came near being an exception. Shortly after Mr. Savage paid $21,000 for this champion trotter his former owner drove him, and the result was a strained tendon. While this injury was cured, it prevented any extremely fast work, and Mr. Savage sold him to a Russian for $26,000, thus making a profit on the poorest horse investment he ever made.

POLAR CONSTELLATIONS - NOVEMBER

BY JOHN J. BLAIR

ASTRONOMY FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.—USE OF THE CHART.

The accompanying chart is simplified by leaving out many of the fainter stars and constellations. The observer should try first to find the chief stars in their proper places, and then fill in on the star atlas the fainter ones from his own observation.

Magnitude and Number.

Stars are classified according to their luster. The brightest of which there are twenty, are said to be of the first magnitude. Stars just inferior in brilliancy are ranked as second, and so on.

Sixth magnitude stars are the smallest which the unaided eye will disclose.

Astronomers have counted the stars and tell us that 6,000 is a correct estimate of the star population of the heavens.

With the aid of a telescope, however, you will be amazed to find that the sky is filled with an additional multitude of stars which the unaided eye does not reveal.

Constellations and Stars.

From the earliest times the firmament was imagined to be filled with grotesque figures of human beings and animals.

Groups of stars which make up these imaginary figures are called constellations, and the ancient method of naming them is retained to the present day. The accompanying cut is intended to aid those who wish to learn something about astronomy, and has the advantage of enabling anyone to get his knowledge first-hand instead of from a book. Constellations and stars learned in this way are not easily forgotten.

To make a beginning, learn first the form and location of the Dipper, or Great Bear, or Charles' Wain (wagon) as it is quaintly called in England. Almost anyone can find in the north near the horizon the seven stars which form this beautiful group.

One advantage in taking this constellation is that in this lattitude it never passes from sight below the horizon.

Next use the dipper and find the Pole Star; a line drawn through the two end stars called pointers, leads the eye to the Pole Star, which never changes its position in the heavens, while all others revolve in circles around it, passing in endless procession across the sky parallel with the sun's path.

The Pole Star belongs to a constellation called the Little Dipper or Little Bear and is shown in the chart. The "pointers' of the Great Dipper are six degrees apart and can be used as a standard of measurement in the sky.

No difficulty need now be had in identifying another splendid constellation, that of Cassiopeia, which is found in a direct line from the Dipper through Polaris and an equal distance beyond it. This constellation appears as the letter "W" and lies in the Milky Way.

Now looking to the right and towards the horizon as indicated in the chart, a brilliant first magnitude star is seen which bears the name of Capella (meaning goat.)

The three small stars near Capella are called the Kids, this entire group with others forming the constellation of Auriga.

On the opposite side of the Pole Star from Capella and at a greater distance from it, near the Milky Way, is seen the beautiful first magnitude star Vega, or "Harp Star", called the "Arc Light of the Sky."

A perfect parallelogram of faint stars is characteristic of the constellation of Lyra.

The Planet Saturn.

One of the planets of our own Solar system may be seen to splendid advantage during the month of November rising almost exactly in the East and appearing first about 6 o'clock in the evening. This brilliant object can be distinguished from other stars from the fact that it does not twinke, but shines with steady yellow light. As night advances the planet rises higher and higher in the heavens, following almost exactly in a line with the streets which run east and west. This planet has a diameter nine times as great as the earth, and requires a period of thirty years to make one revolution around its orbit, while in making its daily rotation only ten and one-half hours is required. It differs from all other planets in our solar system in that it is surrounded by a broad shining brim, or series of rings which can be seen distinctly through a small telescope. It also has eight satellites, while only one mon accompanies our own planet.

Meteors and Meteorites.

During this month you will occasionally see while studying the sky, a streak of light dash across the heavens, caused by a "falling star", or meteor.

In August and November meteors appear in greater numbers than at on yother time of year, sometimes occurring with such frequency and brilliancy that the phenomenon is called a meteoric shower.

By studying many of the records of noted showers it has been learned that the intervals at which these grand displays succeed one another is about 33 years. It should be remembered, too, that on the recurrence each year of the night of 12th and 13th of November more than the usual number of shooting stars may be looked for. It has been found that for 1,000 years there have been showers of meteors at the time of year mentioned, and all records agree that they have recurred at intervals of 33 years. The year A. D. 902 is spoken of in an old Chronicle as "The Year of Stars." In more modern days we have fuller information with regard to them, for instance, in 1833 a magnificent display was seen in America and again in 1866 repetition was confirmed. A gentleman of South Carolina describes the effect on his negroes of the falling stars at this time as follows: "I was suddenly awakened by the most distressing cries I have ever heard. Shrieks of horror and cries for mercy I could hear from most of the negroes of three plantations, amounting in all to about 600 or 800. I opened the door and it was difficut to say which excited me most, the awfulness of the scene or the distressed cries of the negroes. The scene was truly awful, for never did rain fall much thicker than the meteors fell towards the earth." Astronomers conclude that on these years the earth passes through on orbit of meteors which are revolving in long ovals around the sun.

It is a known fact that these foreign bodies sometimes fall to earth and are then called meteorites. Specimens which weigh many hundreds of pounds have been collected and some may be found in nearly all great museums of the world. They are found to be composed largely of iron. As a rule, however, these bodies travel with such great velocity through space that upon coming in contact with the earth's atmosphere they are entirely consumed by the intense heat caused by friction, so that only a trail of light is left to tell of their presence.

The writer expresses the hope that the pupils of our schools in whose interest particularly this simple paper is prepared, will preserve the article and chart for future reference.

Use of a telescope may be denied you, but make the best use of your own eyes, and do not wait until a full moon obscures the stars, but go out the first clear night and find as many constellations as you can.

A knowledge of astronomy is worth while, even if studied from an aesthetic viewpoint.

Stories and legends of the sky and its inhabitants have come down to us through all ages. We have abundant evidence that at some time or other worship of the sun, moon and stars was well nigh universal.

Then, too, much of our literature is filled with reference to the constellations and mythology of the heavens, and an understanding is necessary to a proper appreciation of it.

The study also leads to an appreciation of the poetry of the heavens as well as an interest in the stars themselves.

David was inspired when he wrote the opening verses of the XIX Psalm, Bryant when he wrote the 'Song of the Stars." Shakespeare when he said, "There not the smallest orb that thou behodest, but in its motion like an angel sings." etc., and Addison in his "Divine Ode" exclaims:

"The spacious firmament on high,
With all the blue ethereal sky,
And spangled Heavens, a shining frame,
Their great Original proclaim."

Tennyson makes constant allusion to ciassic mythology andl in Longfellow, numerous reference is made to the beauties of the starry firmament.

It is in the hope of leading the reader to a fuller knowledge of the poetry of the sky as well as to a greater interest in the stars themselves that this article is written.

RESCUE OF MINERS.

Some of the Devices Being Adopted by U. S. Miners.

Washington, Nov. 5.—A life saving service for the rescue of miners in time of disaster is about to be inaugurated by the United States Bureau of Mines. Six specially constructed cars, fully manned by a corps of miners trained in rescue work and equipped with the latest rescue apparatus and first aid to the injured appliances, will within a few days be located in the midst of the great coal districts in different parts of the country. These cars will be ready at a moment's notice to proceed to the scene of a disaster, where the rescue corps, in co-operation with the State mining officials, will do everything possible to save entombed miners.

This is the first important step taken by the new Bureau of Mines in its efforts to reduce the appalling loss of life in American coal mines.

During the year 1909, there were 2,412 miners killed in the coal mines and 7,979 injured. In the coal and the metal mines it is estimated that 3,000 men were killed and 10,000 were injured in 1909. For every 1,000 men employed, from three to five men were killed each year in the mines of the United States. In foreign countries from one to two are killed in each 1,000 employed. In those European countries where the deaths are least per 1,000 men employed, rescue apparatus has been in use for some time, and it is with the hope that European conditions can be approached that the rescue apparatus is being introduced here.

The saving of human life will be the emergency feature of a general campaign of educational work among the miners, who will not only be taught the use of the rescue apparatus, but also the proper way to take care of an injured miner. There will also be lectures on many phases of the mining problem looking toward greater safety. There will be little excuse for the miner not benefitting himself, for the mine rescue cars will go to the miner in his own town or camp. Each car has been given a specified territory and it is expected that every mining community of any importance will be visited. A mining engineer and a surgeon of the American Red Cross will accompany each car and deliver illustrated lectures on the use of explosives, electrical equipment, fire prevention, sanitation and first aid surgical treatment. These lectures will be given in the cars wherever a suitable meeting place can not be procured. The cars will remain long enough at each place so that miners may go through the training in rescue work, which will be in charge of the foreman of the car, a practical miner. Every effort will be made to encourage the miners to form rescue corps at the mines where they are and to have the operators equip them with rescue apparatus.

The cars will each contain eight so-called oxygen helmets, a supply of oxygen in tanks, one dozen safety lamps, one field telephone with 2,000 feet of wire, resuscitating outfits and a small outfit for use in demonstration and actual practice of equipment relating to first-aid-to-the-injured in connection with mine accidents. One end of the cars will be fitted up as an air tight room to be used in training the men in the use of the so-called oxygen helmets. This room will be filled with noxious fumes, and the miners, wearing the helmets, will remain inside for two hours, in an atmosphere that would kill without the helmets. These are the helmets that permit one to enter a mine immediately following an explosion, while it is still filled with poisonous gases, and breathe artificially. The absence of the helmets at great catastrophes in the United States has, it is believed resulted in a greater loss of life than necessary. Frequently miners who have not suffered physical injury by an explosion have been entombed in the mine to die slowly from the inhalation of the poisonous gases. Had it been possible to reach these men within a few hours, their lives might have been saved. The helmets proved their worth at the ill-fated Cherry mine when the rescuers succeeded in getting 20 men out alive after they had been entombed seven days. In a number of other instances, miners have been saved from terrible deaths by the prompt arrival of the helmeted rescuers.

Car No. 1, which will be in charge of Charles Enzian, mining engineer, will leave Pittsburg, Pa., the morning of October 31, for Monongahela City, Pr., where the first demonstration of rescue apparatus and lecture will be given. This car will then visit Marianna, Brownsville, Uniontown, Connellsville, Scottsdale, Indiana, Johnstown, Windber, South Fork, Portage, Cresson, Punxsutawney, Clearfield Philipsburg and State College.

Car No. 2 is expected to reach the Bureau of Mines Rescue station at Urbana, Ill., November 1, where it will be fully equipped with rescue and other apparatus and placed in charge of R. Y. Williams, mining engineer, as lecturer and J. M. Webb as trainer in mine rescue work. Dr. J. M. Shields of the American Red Cross Society will be present and there will be a miner skilled in hospital corps work and first aid to the injured. After remaining in Urbana for several days, the car will proceed to Danville, Ill., Terre Haute, Ind., and on through southern Indiana to Evansville. Lectures and demonstrations will be given at each stopping place. The car will stop a few days or a week at each mining town where the miners will be trained without cost in rescue work. The men who take the full course of instruction in mine rescue and first aid work will be given certificates of competency. A record will be kept of these men as being available for emergency calls in the event of a disaster.

Four other cars similarly equipped will be ready for delivery to the Bureau of Mines within a few days. They will make their headquarters at Rock Springs Wyo., Billings, Mont., Salt Lake City, Utah, and Knoxville Tenn. These cars will travel through the mining territory in their districts, the mining engineers giving lectures on greater safety in mining, the Red Cross representatives giving demonstrations in first aid to the injured, and the rescue corps men training the miners in the use of the oxygen helmets.

CARE OF CHICKENS.

Feeding and Management of Poultry for Egg Production.

A bulletin on the feeding and management of poultry for egg production has just been prepared by Prof. J S Jeffrey, poultryman, and issued by the North Caroline Agricultural Experiment Station

At present, probably three to four million dollars worth of eggs are produced annually by the poultry of the State On account of this and the steadily increasing price of poultry and eggs, poultry keeping is attract more attention now than possibly ever before. As this bulletin gives information that should be of practical value in poultry feeding and management, every progressive poultry raiser should secure a copy of it.

It discusses the kind of stock best for profitable egg production as well as their proper housing and care. Breading up of heavy laying strains is also dealt with in such a way as to develop material of value to all those interested in this branch of livestock growing.

A comparison is made of different rations, both as regards the cost of egg production and the best development of the stock.

The importance of cleanliness and of keeping the house free from mites is also brought out and recommendations given.

Any poultry raiser in North Carolina may receive a copy of this bulletin (No. 211) free by addressing Director C. B. Williams, West Raleigh, N. C.

INCREASE YOUR WEIGHT QUICKLY.

Simple Way for the Thin and Pale to Be Plump and Rosy.

Samose can hardly be termed a medicine, it is in reality a flesh forming food. Taken before or after meals, it mingles with the food you eat, enables it to assimilate and readily digest, so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

After Samose has been used a week or ten days a noticeable gain in weight is seen. The sallow complexion will become rosy, the sunken cheeks will have a ruddy glow, the eyes will be bright, the breath sweet and the step elastic.

J. Hicks Bunting's customers have told him of the remarkable results following the use of Samose, the great flesh forming food, that he is so thoroughly convinced of its reliability that he is selling it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.
